WRECKED CITY OF SMOLENSK HELD BY NAZIS

More Major Victories To Come Soon, Berlin Says; Russians Silent

NINE MILLIONS BATTLE

Polotsk Fortress And Chief City In Bessarabia Also Grabbed, Reich Asserts

MOSCOW, July 17—Heavy fighting during the night in the region of Pskov and Porkhov on the northern sector of the Russo-German battle front was announced by the Soviet high command today.

A previous Russian war bulletin revealed a serious threat to Russian defenses on the central front by admitting German legions have approached the region of Smolensk.

By International News Service

Capture of vital Smolensk, last major defense barrier on the road to Moscow—225 miles to the east—was announced today by Adolf Hitler's headquarters, with further assertions that other major victories are shaping up for the Germans.

Nine million men are locked in a death struggle in this mightiest of all battles of the far-flung eastern front, German GHQ said, adding that the issue is no longer in doubt.

The city of Smolensk is little more than a charred heap of rubble, the communique declared.

The fortress of Polotsk has fallen in the north and the city of Kishinev, capital of Bessarabia, in the south, the Nazi high command declared. The Ukrainian capital of Kiev was said to be surrounded and besieged.

The Soviet high command for once did not completely dispute the German claims. Without going into specific engagements, the Red army headquarters admitted that heavy fighting was going on in the Smolensk area.

(Smolensk lies approximately fifty miles behind the front fortifications of the mystery-shrouded "Stalin Line.")

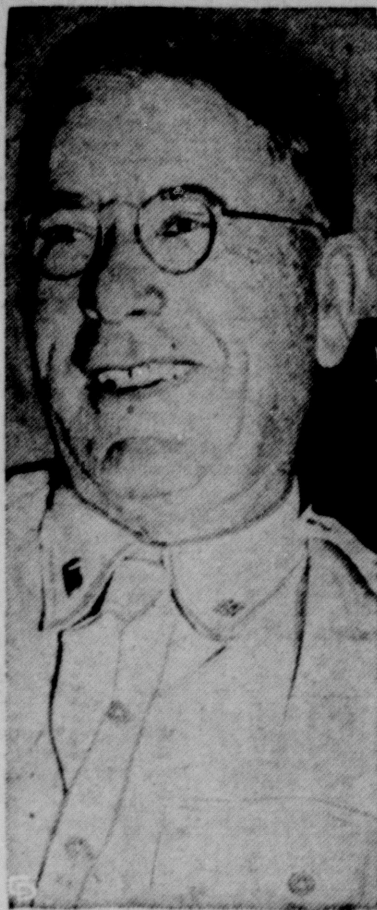

Nazi Force Transferred

As this Titanic battle raged in the East, London announced further devastating air raids on Hamburg and other important German cities. It was indicated that the British had succeeded in their aim of drawing Luftwaffe units from the eastern to the Western Front. Raising Royal Air Force squadrons encountered more and better Nazi planes.

Still further east, Japan was

GENERAL BEN LEAR

WASHINGTON, July 17—The Army command today indicated its approval of punishment meted out by Lieut. General Ben Lear to the 110th (Yoo-Hoo) Battalion, and announced that "the incident is closed." Under Secretary of War Robert Patterson told a press conference that General Lear's report of the "Memphis incident" is now at hand, but will not be made public. The general made the 110th Battalion of the Quartermaster Corps march 15 miles for "yoo-hooing" at golfers on a Memphis, Tenn., course.

London Announces Loss Of Lady Somers; Spaniards In Rescue Role

LONDON, July 17—The British admiralty announced today that the auxiliary vessel Lady Somers was sunk but that 138 survivors from the total complement of 175 were rescued by Spanish ships and are being landed at a neutral port.

The Lady Somers was a twin-screw vessel of 8,194 tons, formerly operated by the Canadian National Steamships, Ltd.

She was one of the so-called "ladyboats" which operated in the West Indies and was familiar to all travelers between Bermuda, the Bahamas and Cuba.

LONDON—The Exchange Telegraph (British) news agency today quoted the Moscow radio as reporting a revolt has broken out among Italian troops scheduled to be dispatched to the Polish frontier.

LONDON—Seven United States marines and six American Red Cross nurses, the last batch of American survivors from the torpedoed steamer Maasdam, arrived in London today. This accounted for all the Americans aboard the vessel except two nurses.

WINNIPEG, Man. — After a two-months intensive recruiting campaign, 60,000 additional volunteers have been received in Canada's fighting forces, it was announced officially today by the Dominion Minister of Defense, J. L. Ralston. Fifteen thousand of the volunteers were accepted in the flying forces and the navy, the rest went into the army.

LONDON—Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's trusted aide, arrived in London this afternoon on another visit of inspection.

AXIS ENVOYS AT SEA

Transport West Point On Voyage After Being Halted At Start

ROME, July 17—"In compliance with a request from the German government," the Italian foreign office informed the United States embassy in Rome today that the train carrying ousted American consular agents from Italy to Lisbon, Portugal, must remain in Italy several more days.

The special train with the American officials and members of their families aboard is now at San Remo near the Italo-French border.

It was halted there yesterday after leaving Rome because, according to Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, departure of the transport vessel West Point from New York, with axis consular agents ousted from the United States—had been delayed.

With regard to the exchange of consular personnel, the foreign office informed the American embassy, the Italian government decided to hold the American consular train in Italy for several days.

Trades Considered

The foreign office said arrangements will be made for exchange of consular groups to occur in such manner and at such place as will permit the groups to pass from jurisdiction of the exchanging countries simultaneously.

As a result of this notification, it was believed the train carrying the Americans will not be permitted to leave San Remo until Sunday.

Meanwhile, permission to leave Italy was granted a number of American citizens, including Mrs. Collins, wife of the American vice consul at Florence, and four employees of the American Express Co. Athens branch who are now in Italy.

This permission was granted after officials commandeered

STATE INDUSTRY NEEDS WORKERS FOR VITAL JOBS

COLUMBUS, July 17—Ohio industry is in desperate need of 37,605 defense workers by October 1, the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Most serious shortages in the state, the BUC reported, are at Cleveland, Springfield and Lima. Cleveland industries will need 11,163 men, but have a supply of only 6,649. Springfield will need 3,737 but has a supply of only 369 and Lima will need 1,700 and has a supply of only 288.

The needs were ascertained through a careful survey of 711 of the state's 1,331 defense work employers.

Most serious shortage is in the machine field, where 7,250 machinists will be needed by fall, against a registered available supply of only 1,000.

The industries also will need nearly 1,400 tool and die makers, and 750 moulders and foundry workers.

ELEVATOR LOOTED

Employees at the Crites elevator at the east edge of Circleville, Thursday, told police and sheriff's officers that someone broke into the building Wednesday night and stole seven cartons of cigarettes and about $2 in change. Intruders entered through a window, investigating officers said, but they were unable to find any fingerprints.

14,000 PLANE FACTORY WORKERS WIN BOOST

NEW YORK, July 17—The 14,000 workers in the airplane division of the Buffalo plant of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation will receive approximately $5,500,000 in wage increases in an award announced today by the American Arbitration Association.

The award, representing an average increase of 11½ cents an hour, was made retroactive to May 1 and will continue until December 1, 1941, when there will be a review. The pay grant followed 13 days of hearings before a five-man board.

SECOND DRAFT LOTTERY AT 7

142 Counties Awaiting Draw To Determine Order Of Call

One hundred and forty-two Circleville and Pickaway County young men who registered last week for the second draft were awaiting Thursday for the second National Lottery to learn in what order they will be called for service in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

The draft lottery is scheduled to start at 7 p. m. in Washington, D. C. when high government officials, Army and Navy commanders, congressmen and even draftees themselves will start drawing little salmon colored capsules from the famous gold fish bowl.

The capsules contain the serial numbers which will classify in order the 750,000 youths who have reached the age of 21 since the first drawing last October 29. The lottery will be a miniature duplication of the original event when more than 16,000,000 registrants between the ages of 21 and 36 were assigned their sequence numbers.

In Ohio the highest registration was Cuyahoga County board No. 15, which listed 277.

Ohio's 330 draft boards will assign order numbers in three or four days, as soon as the official master lists are received from Washington. The new registrants will be included in a master list of all prospective selectees, old and new.

The number of the last man inducted into the army on June 30 will be subtracted from the total number of registrants in the local board. The difference will be divided by the number of new registrants in the board to determine the ratio number. Should the number be 10, for instance, the new registrants will be inserted in sequence, one after every tenth man on the list of those remaining to be inducted.

Ohioans who will participate in the National Draft Lottery—all non-commissioned officers who were inducted into the army from the state under the Selective Service program—include Sgt. James Bradley, Camp Lee, Columbus; Cpl. W. C. Roberts, Camp Lee, Franklin County; Sgt. L. B. Pepper, Camp Lee, Shelby County; Cpl. Samuel G. Crews, Ft. Belvoir, Dayton, and Cpl. Charles F. Tate, Ft. Belvoir, Bucyrus.

MAJOR J. E. HALL, WAYNE TOWNSHIP NATIVE, DIES

A native of Wayne Township and a school mate of Judge Meeker Terwilliger, Major James Elliott Hall, 58, of Columbus, died Wednesday in Grant Hospital after a lengthy illness. Major Hall had been president of the American Utilities Company until retirement five years ago.

He served in the Quartermaster Procurement Division during the World War, being stationed at Washington D. C., and removed to Columbus in 1919. He was a member of the Reserve Officers Association, the Army and Navy Club and the Ohio State Archeological Society.

The funeral will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the Schoedinger Funeral Home, Columbus, with burial in Forest Cemetery about 3:30 p. m.

Lindy Writes to F.D.R. Protesting Attacks On Him By Cabinet Member

Ace Declares He Is Not Connected In Any Way With Foreign Government

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 17—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today made formal protest to President Roosevelt because of attacks on him by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and asked an apology from that cabinet member.

Secretary Ickes in a New York address last Monday charged that Colonel Lindbergh was a mouthpiece of the Nazi party line in this country and repeatedly characterized Lindbergh as "this knight of the German eagle."

In his letter to the President, Colonel Lindbergh declared flatly he is not connected in any way with any foreign government and reminded Mr. Roosevelt that his decoration by the German government occurred while he was carrying out the request of the American ambassador to Germany, Colonel Lindbergh also offered to appear before a presidentially appointed committee and face investigation into his activities.

Colonel Lindbergh's letter follows: "My Dear Mr. President: 'I address you, sir, as an American citizen to his President. I write concerning statements made by an officer of your cabinet, the secretary of interior.

"For many months, and on numerous occasions, your secretary of the interior has implied in public meetings that I am connected with the interests of a foreign government, and he has specifically criticized me for accepting a decoration from the German government in 1938.

"Mr. President, is it too much to ask that you inform your secretary of the interior that I was decorated by the German government while I was carrying out the

EXPLOSIVES HIT ROTTERDAM AND OTHER REGIONS

LONDON, July 17—British bombers once again showered explosives on northwestern Germany last night and early today after an earlier blistering assault on Nazi-occupied Rotterdam.

An official announcement said the British bombers attacked industrial areas of Hamburg and other objectives in the northwestern section of the Reich.

Describing the daylight attacks yesterday on the port of Nazi-occupied Rotterdam, the Air Ministry announced in a communique that RAF planes had dropped bombs which hit and set fire to 11 ships of varying tonnage.

"The Rotterdam-Lloyd liner Balcoran was struck by several bombs.

"Seventeen ships with an estimated total tonnage of 90,000 to 100,000 tons were put out of action either permanently or for a long time.

"Five more totalling between 40,000 and 45,000 tons were severely damaged."

In the night attacks on Hamburg and other sectors of the Reich, fires were started and many high explosives burst on their targets, the Air Ministry said.

Gale Hits Thomas Farm, Scene Of Construction

Three men were sent to Berger Hospital Wednesday about 3:30 p. m. when rafters on the Kermit Thomas barn, west of Circleville, on which they were working, were torn loose by a strong wind, letting all three men fall 30 feet to the ground.

Injured were Ralph Young, 36, Stoutsville; Martin Compton, 32, Stoutsville Route 1, and Addison Lovett, 23, Stoutsville Route 1. Hospital authorities said Thursday that Young was suffering from a fractured pelvis, a fractured left leg and a compound fracture of the left arm. Compton has a fractured left ankle and Lovett a slight skull fracture, a nose fracture and multiple lacerations.

According to Compton, he, Young and Lovett were on the roof of the barn when it collapsed. "I was at the eaves and Young and Lovett were at the cone when the wind came up and we were attempting to get the rafters secured fastened before the wind got too strong," he said. "All of a sudden half the rafters tore loose and let us down. A short time later the remaining rafters let go and the whole top framework tumbled in."

Passerby Assists

Compton and Lovett were taken to Berger Hospital by Fred Tipton, Williamsport, who happened along shortly after the accident happened. Young was taken to the hospital by the Rinehart ambulance.

Two others, Kermit Thomas, for whom the barn was being constructed, and James Lovett, Stoutsville, foreman of the carpenter crew, were working on the mow floor of the structure when the rafters fell, but were not injured.

The barn is a 84 by 90 foot structure with the mow floor about 10 feet off the ground. The lower portion of the building is constructed of glazed brick. It is located near the intersection of Routes 22 and 104.

No other serious damage was reported in the county from the wind and rain storm. Agricultural Agent F. K. Blair said he had had no reports from farmers of damage to crops. Although hail was reported in some sections of the state, none fell in the Circleville vicinity. Hail this time of year would bring severe damage to the county's corn crop, County Agent Blair said.

Temperatures Wednesday fell to 63 after the storm after reaching a high of 91 at noon. Total rainfall was .12 inches.

JERSEY CROWD DEFIES POLICE TO END STRIKE

BENDIX, N. J., July 17—A rioting mob at the gates of the Air Associates, Inc., plant today defied efforts of police to disperse it with tear gas and even when the police fired live bullets over their heads, the crowd of 2,000 men and women stuck doggedly to the assignment of keeping workers out of the plant.

Several men were injured in clashes and workers' automobiles were showered with rocks as the day shift reported at the plant.

The CIO United Automobile Workers Union, aviation division, called a strike at the plant over the dismissal of nine employees a week ago.

Two men were arrested in a disturbance at the plant gates earlier this week.

Air Associates has government contracts to manufacture parachutes, de-icers, propeller boosters and other aviation items.

Following the morning clash today the Bergen County police sent out a call for additional tear gas.

FOUR TO THREE BALLOT PASSES VITAL MEASURE

Action On Parallel-Angle Argument Delayed After Emergency Fails

REID'S VOTE DECIDES

Safety Department Points Out Need For Definite Lining System

City Council Wednesday night passed the parking meter ordinance by a vote of four to three and assured the city of parking meters in its business section.

It failed, however, to take final action on the ordinance providing for parallel parking, and efforts of councilmen anxious to decide on a parking program, were checked for at least three more weeks. Next regular council meeting will be August 6.

Final action on the meter regulation came after Councilman W. M. Reid moved that the lengthy ordinance be given its third reading by title only. Reid's motion passed with Councilmen Frank Lynch and B. H. Gordon dissenting. Councilman Clarence Helvering did not vote.

With the measure then open for vote, Councilman George Crites, J. H. Helwagen, J. D. Masor and Reid voted the ordinance through. Dissenting were Councilmen Helvering, Lynch and Gordon. The deciding vote was cast by Councilman Reid, who told his colleagues that although his "yea" vote might cost him his seat in the council, he believed the issue was one in which politics should not play a part.

Parallel Bill Held Up

Councilmen Gordon, Helvering and Lynch were successful however, in keeping the parallel parking meter ordinance from coming up for a final vote. After the measure was given its second reading, Councilman Reid called for a suspension of the rules and

U. S. WILL MAKE ICELAND MAJOR NAVAL, AIR BASE

WASHINGTON, July 17—Iceland will be converted into a powerful United States naval and air base by the use of "blank check" defense appropriations previously granted President Roosevelt.

That was the report today of informed congressmen, who listed the following as the primary defensive installations planned for the recently occupied northern outpost:

A major flying field from which planes can take-off for a ceaseless patrol of surrounding waters.

A huge naval operating and repair base for American ships engaged in keeping sea-lanes open, and also for use in case of war and possible big-scale naval action in the Atlantic.

A network of a dozen or so smaller flying fields strategically located about the island so that an enemy could not put air defenses out of action by seizing one or two major fields—as the Germans are said to have done when they drove the British out of Crete.

HOG MART IN CHICAGO TOUCHES PEAK OF $12

CHICAGO, July 17—Hogs today swept to a top of $12, the highest Chicago price since October, 1937, when the top was $12.25.

The average cost on the Chicago market was around $11.25, $2.25 above the announced goal of the government's pork buying program. Prices today were 10 to 15 cents higher than the strong market yesterday.

Light receipts and a rise in some cuts of fresh pork sent the market spurring.

SCHOOL FOR ALIENS

LAST year the alien check-up showed more than 5,000,000 aliens over 14 years old living in this country, most of whom had taken no steps toward citizenship. It was recognized that something should be done about the grown-ups. It is no time for any country to harbor millions of people who "don't belong."

This fact has been appreciated by most of the aliens themselves, as is shown by the large and growing numbers applying for citizenship. Every intelligent alien knows that this is a poor time to live anywhere without national allegiance and protection. As war and warlike ideologies sweep over other nations, our free and decent system grows increasingly attractive to aliens living here or able to come.

So it was a happy thought to embark on a big citizenship program, to round up eligible and willing aliens who have good stuff in them and bring them into the national fold. The Works Project Administration could hardly have found better use for its funds and energies. But the mere act of naturalization is not enough in itself. The finest thing about this innovation is the widespread and well-devised plan whereby, under the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the applicants for naturalization will be formally trained in "the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship."

And it may be said with flippancy that millions of our people who are already citizens, including many who were born Americans, might profit by this instruction plan.

TUNG OIL

ANOTHER step toward self-sufficiency is being made in the experimental planting of tung trees in our southern states, near the Gulf Coast. This is done with a view to providing our own supply of tung oil, at present produced only in China. The oil is needed in vast quantities for paint, varnish, linoleum, printer's ink and so on. It would be unfortunate for China to be deprived of its market for this product. Our purchases have helped the government there as much as anything to carry on its defensive war against Japan. But new trees will not bear for several years. The Chinese patriots may be safely out of the woods before such a problem arises. And there will be plenty of other things to trade.

General Hagood says the men in the army should be called "soldiers" instead of draftees, etc. Wonder why nobody thought of that before!

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE . . . Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up early to a glorious morning and pondered the fact that this would be great fishing weather if one were able to wade a stream. All that tackle of mine and a grand outboard motor existing in uselessness. Turned to the breakfast table, coffee and the morning prints. Much irked by the so-called war news from the Russian front. One just does not know what to believe. Darn a liar who tells the truth once in a while. Noted that the Reds are flitting with the second division. About as much punch as the Italian army.

Came a card from England, written by a chap in the A. E. F. Nothing about the war at all. This warrior is a radio ham and he said he is looking toward resuming his interesting contacts with American amateurs when "this spot of bother" is over. Imagine one in the very thick of the world's worst war referring to it as "a spot of bother." Closed with "Cheerio." Very fine people, most of the English.

Noted the difficult position of our congressmen on the proposition to hold draftees and guardsmen in service longer than a year. Undoubtedly a lot of votes will be lost if they vote "yes," yet I don't see how they can do otherwise if this "crisis" is as bad as we are told to believe. Maybe the situation would be eased if the "crisis" were wheeled out for public inspection. I would like to see what the thing looks like, I've heard so much about it.

Gene Geib is at Camp St. Joseph and wrote home, "We get up so early in the morning that dinner seems like supper." Then there was the chap who returned home after sleeping for six months on an army cot. Couldn't wait to get into a bed. Then he dreamed all night of sleeping on an army cot.

Drove a few miles into the country to see whether the corn is as tall as George Roth insisted. Said some of it would have to be "logged" this year. Chatted with Harry Hill, who has quit attending the wrestling shows in Columbus. Says the matches are not fixed enough to be interesting. Harry likes action, and one doesn't get action in a wrestling match that is anywhere near on the level.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

STEP CANCELLED THREE TIMES

WASHINGTON — The Administration had a hard time making up its mind to go into Iceland. Actually the Navy had orders four different times to prepare for the trip, and three times the orders were cancelled or held in abeyance.

It was last May that some of the Marines were embarked at Quantico. They sailed down the Potomac to Norfolk, then to Charleston, S. C., were kept in suspense regarding their destination until about two weeks ago.

As far as naval officers could ascertain, there was no particular reason for the frequent changes in plans except that the President was not quite sure of American public opinion. Naval officers flew several times to Iceland in advance of the landing, conferred with the British about all details of the occupation. The Navy was completely prepared.

There is no question that the President has made all the decisions regarding Iceland, even down to such details as whether newspapermen should be permitted to visit the island after the landing of American troops.

The State Department approved the idea of American newsmen going to this new American outpost. So also did Secretary of the Navy Knox. Both felt that just as American newsmen were in France during the last war and reported on the actions of American troops, so newsmen had a right to keep the public informed about American troops in Iceland.

But apparently some of the Admirals did not agree with their chief, the Secretary of the Navy, and tipped off the White House. The President intervened personally and said that no newsmen could go to Iceland.

NOTE—Despite all the news suppression demanded by the Admirals, Spanish, Japanese and Swedish ships, all close to or dominated by the Axis, keep their radios operating while in American ports or American waters. It is highly unlikely that they fail to note the presence of British vessels or U. S. transports loaded with American Marines.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Among other aids to Great Britain, you can look for the lease or lend of more submarines. About one-third of the original U. S. submarines sent to Britain exactly a year ago now have been sunk or put out of commission. Greece, Crete, and Atlantic warfare took the toll. The Navy is sore at the State Department for not doing a little warming up to Russian commanders in Siberia. If Russia falls, it will be good to have an in with the Red Army in this neck of the woods opposite Alaska, but apparently we are letting the Japanese do the warming up. Henry Morgenthau, who prides himself on running one of the most efficient Treasury Departments in history, has kept a customs official in Maryland who has not been out (Continued on Page Eight)

DIET AND HEALTH

Ketogenic Diet for Acidosis

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● Last year I published the details of the ketogenic diet for epilepsy. So many inquiries have been received asking for exact details that I take this opportunity to respond and publish a sample day's menu.

The essential feature of the diet is high fat and low sugar and starch content. After a few days of this a state of acidosis should be created; and acidosis always makes for sedation. The brain centers are as depressed by acidosis as if the patient were taking bromides. It is the same thing that happens in diabetes when coma comes on. The diabetic body does not burn sugars and starches and since the fats burn in the flame of the carbohydrates, they are incompletely oxidized and certain bodies—the ketone bodies—remain. Hence the name ketogenic diet.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Candy Gave Child Fits
In practice the diet often works very well for epilepsy, especially with children. A friend of mine told a story about being in a small country town and he stood treat to a group of small boys who gathered around by buying them all candy. One of them refused and said, "Mister, I wouldn't eat one of those candy bars for fifty dollars because as sure as I did I would have a fit when I got home." The story illustrates the fact that when even a youthful patient who likes candy is getting results, he will stick to the diet.

Judge Diet by Results
The diet, however, is troublesome and tiresome, and unless the attacks are greatly diminished in number and severity, it should not be continued for more than a month. Before discarding it, however, one should be sure that the diet being used is really ketogenic —that is, that it is producing an acid condition.

The only way to be sure of this is to have the patient's urine tested for the presence of the ketone acids. It is a very simple and reliable test which any doctor is prepared to do. If this test is not positive, there is something wrong with the diet and it will do no good to continue it.

To increase fat in the diet, butter and cream must be used in liberal quantities. The following diet is suitable for a child weighing 60 pounds.

Breakfast: 100 gm. grapefruit or melon, 20 cc. olive oil, 1 egg, 10 gm. butter, 100 gm. 40 per cent cream.

Dinner: 50 cc. vegetable soup and 100 cc. 40 per cent cream, 40 gm. meat, 50 gm. 5 per cent vegetables, 20 gm. lettuce, 20 gm. olive oil, 15 gm. pecan nuts.

Supper: Egg-nog—1 egg and 100 gm. 40 per cent cream, 50 gm. 10 per cent vegetables, 20 gm. peanut butter, 2 crackers. Note: 30 gm. or 30 cc. equal 1 ounce.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
M. S.:—"Can people be infected and troubled with fleas from a house dog who has them? Some people say fleas only trouble dogs." Answer: Certainly, fleas go from dogs to humans.

R. E. S.:—"What is the cause of carbuncles and boils? Are they caused by irritating pimples or blood condition? What is a good diet to correct this?"

Answer: Irritating pimples, or in other words, skin infection. Blood has nothing to do with it. No diet is valuable.

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

THE CEILING plate for the electric light came away in Henry's hands, revealing a hole where the wiring had been. Instead of wiring, the hole contained a .32-caliber revolver pointing directly downward. "Look!" cried Henry, pointing his flashlight into the hole for better illumination. "There's a switch motor hooked to the trigger. The crash of those trains closed a circuit that fired the gun!"

Spinnelli, squatting on the floor as he came into the room through the low opening, had to rock far back on his heels in order to tilt his stiff neck enough to see the weapon. He stared at it in amazement. "B-but, I thought Ives was shot from behind!"

"So did we all. We . . ." He stopped, then jumped down from the table. "Listen!" he whispered. "I hear the voice of our murderer!" The outer door had opened. A confusion of voices came from the club members, who apparently had arrived in a body under escort of the sheriff and his men.

"Why, Mrs. Potter!" exclaimed Marcia, "what a surprise to find you here!"

"Is that husband of yours first on the job again?" asked Susan. Her words sounded almost flippant, and Henry knew she had not been told about Laurence.

"He's a good worker," commented Hans.

"Stop it!" cried Stanley King. "Stop it, all of you! Can't you see you're driving me mad? Why did you have to bring me here tonight?"

Henry ducked back under the train table into the main room and stood up. "I'll tell you why, Mr. King. We came here because we know at last how Mr. Ives was killed—and who killed him."

The banker paled and stepped back. "Get away from me! You killed him, Henry Potter!"

Henry shook his head. "You're wrong. I thought for a while that your fear of me was faded—but I learned tonight how genuine it is! But I did not kill the man who hated you!"

"Hated me?" "Of course he hated you. When he wrote in his last letter that 'Evil is afoot in our village,' he meant you. He blamed you for the heavy losses suffered by your neighbors in that railroad stock deal, and he hated you more when you refused to give up any of your money to help them afterward."

The sheriff interrupted impatiently. "Okay, okay! We know that. Who killed John Ives?"

Henry faced the assembled group, tasting his triumph slowly. Everyone seemed holding his breath, waiting for Henry's next words. Even on Mrs. Potter's face was an expression of something akin to awe. Her mouth was partly open. No one paid any attention when Spinnelli emerged from under the table and cautiously stood up.

Henry helped the wounded man, and to the listeners said, "Mr. Spinnelli was not stabbed by the killer of Ives. That was where the police made their first mistake. Mr. Spinnelli was stabbed by old George, Mrs. Willett's father."

The group gasped, and turned of one accord on the old man, who stood there blinking—making no denial.

Words of Wisdom

He that would govern others, first should be the master of himself, richly endowed with depth of understanding and height of knowledge.—Massinger.

Hints on Etiquette

If a club sandwich is small and compact, it may be taken with the fingers. Most of them are double-deckers, or more, and should be cut through and eaten with the fork.

Today's Horoscope

Prospects for today's birthday children are excellent indeed. Splendid business opportunities, travel, and changes will come your way. Great happiness attends you, and you should push your affairs to the utmost. An exceptionally clever child is foreseen as born on this date. He or she will be inventive, original, refined, and much inclined to the arts and travel, also.

"Old George," continued Henry, "was sure that Spinnelli had murdered Ives. Remember how he and Mrs. Willett—tried to frame Mr. Spinnelli in that seance? George knew—Mrs. Willett had told him—that if Ives was murdered it probably would be by someone who had been cheated in that stock deal, and that the next victim of the murderer would be Stanley King. George is devoted to Mr. King. George, you'd give your life for him, wouldn't you?"

Old George nodded eagerly, apparently unaware of the seriousness of the crime charged against him. "Yes!" he croaked. "Nobody going to hurt Mr. King!"

Henry smiled at the breathless group. "And so, when it seemed certain to old George that Professor Bisbee was the murderer, and the police were letting him go, George lured him into the hills with a telephone call and shot him through the head."

King staggered forward. "My God, no! George, you didn't do that?"

The old man's mouth was open, his eyes wide and frightened—but he couldn't help nodding his head.

"It was a terrible thing," said Henry, the triumphant note gone from his voice. "Of course, the old man is not mentally responsible. He will be put away in an institution. He tried to kill me, too—once by rifle shot and once by throwing rocks on me in a well. It seems he knew of a secret way down through a well and the old railroad tunnel to cover his trail when people took after him. And he was a dead shot because he had hunted so many rabbits that fed on Mr. King's gardens. He always shot at the head."

King protested. "But George wasn't at the meeting of the club the night Ives was killed. He didn't kill Ives!"

Henry agreed. He looked with pity at the old man who was trembling in the grip of two deputies. "No, George didn't kill Ives. We've always gone on the assumption that there was only one killer. I saw the mistake in that when we discovered tonight's murder."

Gaasps of surprise interrupted him. Most of the model railroaders were unaware of the death of Laurence.

"I saw that tonight's victim was not shot in the head," Henry continued. "And George was standing beside me when we heard the shot. I knew he didn't do it. It couldn't have been one of the gun traps he set at the windows of the King house to prevent me—the man he at last decided was the murderer—from getting in. The shot was fired in the woods. I saw that there must be at least two killers—and if there were two, why couldn't there be three?"

"Good Lord!" exclaimed John Jones, who stood at the rear of the group. "Three?"

"Yes, and you were right in your first suspicions. The death of Ives was what all the rest of us thought it couldn't be. Except Professor Bisbee. He guessed right. The only one of us who had anything to do with it was Hans."

The auto mechanic turned a pasty white. "Ay—Ay! By golly, that be a lie!"

"Oh, your part in it was perfectly innocent," Henry said hastily.

WRECKED CITY OF SMOLENSK HELD BY NAZIS

rocked by the wholesale resignation of the cabinet of Prince Konoye, and it was guessed in Chinese circles that this move pre-figured the start of a new Japanese policy—perhaps a lining-up with ally Germany against ally Russia to block the Siberian port of Vladivostok before lease-lend supplies from the United States could enter there.

It was considered likely that the emperor would ask Prince Konoye to head a new cabinet with army and navy representatives in the majority of its members.

The Russian communists issued Thursday afternoon (Moscow time) was silent regarding Smolensk, whereas an earlier announcement had admitted heavy fighting in the Smolensk region.

The latest Soviet high command statement said merely that heavy fighting occurred during the night in the region of Pskov and Porykhov — far to the northwest of Smolensk — and that there were "no important developments on other fronts."

According to the Germans the Russians defended Smolensk at "all costs" while the German casualties were termed "extraordinarily low."

Tank Unit Wrecked

In its account of the Russo-German war, Moscow claimed that a German tank battalion retreating from Rogachev had been surrounded and destroyed.

Berlin also claimed German and Romanian troops yesterday captured Kishinev near the Dniester River on the southern front. The announcement said most of the Russian defenders of the city were annihilated while the remainder were captured.

German authorities declared Soviet efforts to rally Red army reserves and stage flank attacks against the Germans had "failed dismally."

DRAMA NEARING AS YANK STAR, FELLER TANGLE

DiMaggio Needs Hit Tonight To Put Record On Block Against Indian Ace

CLASH BOOKED FRIDAY

Two Earlier Attempts By Rapid Robert To End Streak Fail

By International News Service
Barring a slight slip in the meantime, they will stage one of the great sports dramas of the year tomorrow afternoon at Cleveland. It will be more than a ball game between the league-leading New York Yankees and the second place Cleveland Indians battling toward the World Series which will be played by one or the other of these clubs against the National League representative. This is going to be a man-to-man tussle between two individual stars, of Joe DiMaggio manages to get his usual hit in tonight's game between the two clubs and keep his consecutive game streak alive.

Unless he is stopped by Al Smith, who is slated to start, and any others who may finish, interest and dramas and the headlines for tomorrow's encounter will center around DiMaggio trying to run his streak to 56 games in a row against Bob Feller, the year's leading pitcher and a probable 30-game winner.

They've encountered each other twice since DiMaggio started his streak on May 15. But on neither of those occasions was that extra touch of tension on like it will be tomorrow unless Joe is halted tonight. They will be in the clutch this time.

On June 2, DiMaggio got a single and a double against Feller to run his streak to the then insignificant 19 games on a row during which he had hit safely. DiMaggio stretched it to 27 straight on June 14 against Feller with a two-bagger.

Far Behind Then
But that wasn't so important either, for DiMaggio still was well behind George Sisler's modern run of 41 and Wee Willie Keeler's all-time high of 44.

Since then he has maintained his streak and, at the same time, has begun to assert himself in the seasonal batting championship race. As of today, he is tied for second place with Cecil Travis, of Washington, at .375, or 20 points behind Ted Williams, of Boston; he is deadlocked with fellow-Yankee Charley Keller in home runs with 20; leads in runs, runs batted in and hits.

Feller, the potential villain of the piece, has won 18 games against four defeats and at his present pace will wind-up the season so far in front of the other pitchers that they might as well have been in another league. If he doesn't pitch the Indians into the World Series it will be because the Yankees are hustling like a bunch of bushers out to make the team, and the Red Sox are coming up with some pitching to help the hitters.

Should Get 30

Feller is almost certain, at any rate, to get his 30 wins and perhaps more, hurling as he does every four days without a break.

Aside from the World Series anticipations of the involved clubs the Feller-DiMaggio clash will be one of this year's baseball highlights if Joe doesn't spoil everything this evening under the lights in Cleveland's great Municipal Stadium.

Just one hit tonight will bring $250,000 worth of fast ball pitcher against a batter of equivalent value tomorrow with that hitting streak the issue to be settled. In the meantime, DiMaggio will be meeting up with Al Smith, a left-hander, for the first time since the record run was started.

16 PUBLIC LINKS STARS CONTINUE IN TITLE QUEST

SPOKANE, Wash., July 17 — Young Jimmy Clark of Long Beach, Cal., the tournament medalist and favorite, tied off with Gerald Anderson of Worcester, Mass., today as sixteen stalwart survivors battled it out under a sweltering sun in third-round matches for the National Public Links golf title.

The first and second rounds of match play yesterday witnessed a number of upsets, and among the top-notchers eliminated were the defending champ and two former titlists.

Clark, whose amazing 135 in the 36-hole qualifying rounds broke several records, carded a four-under-par 67 in the second round to eliminate Leslie Leal of Bellingham, Wash., 1 up and lead the way to the charmed circle.

This 1940-41 season was Princeton's most successful on the sports field, the Tigers having won six varsity championships in 17 sports.

Yanks Drub Cleveland To Boost League Lead

NEW YORK, July 17—The phone on Ed Barrow's desk rang insistently this morning. The Yankee president picked up the receiver and barked:

"Barrow speaking. What's on your mind?"
The voice on the other end said: "I want you to reserve two seats for me back of the Yankee dug-out."

"But the Yanks are on the road now, playing in Cleveland," said Barrow. "When do you want them for?"

"Yeh, I know that," said the other guy. "But I want to reserve two right now for the opening game of the World Series."

Barrow assured him he couldn't take any reservations now and anyhow, it's a long way to the end of the pennant races.

Well, you can't blame the guy at that, especially after what the Yanks did to the Indians yesterday. They moved into Cleveland leading by five games. A clean sweep for the Indians would put them right back in the first for the lead.

And what happened? The Yanks turned on the heat and walloped them, 10 to 3, and probably put a damper on every fan in Cleveland. And they did it in the usual Yankee style with sheer power predominating.

Joe DiMaggio helped himself to three hits to run his streak through 56 games at the expense of Al Milnar and Joe Kraskauskas. Charley Keller weighed in with a triple and his 20th home run. And Buddy Rosar teed off for a single and a brace of doubles. That kind of hitting made life easy and pleasant for young Atley Donald and that raucous note you may have heard on your radio last night wasn't static—it was a wild whoop from Oscar Vitt out on the coast.

Oscar, you'll remember, is the ex-Cleveland manager.
Meanwhile, Cecil Hughson, a recent arrival from Louisville, was holding the White Sox to four hits to score a 2-1 decision for the Red Sox. It was his third straight win since reaching the big time.
And Bob Muncie, another rookie, pitched the Browns to an 11-2 victory over the Athletics and had his task made easy on a homer by Judnich and two more by Laabs, the three wallops being good for seven runs.

Over on the other wheel the Pirates took a free-hitting affair from the Braves, 13 to 5, after dropping the first game, 4-1.

The Giants put the rollers under Bucky Walters to trim the Reds, 7-4. Bucky didn't have his usual stuff in this one but wretched support made him appear worse than he actually was.

In a free-hitting contest, Chicago turned back the Phillies 9-5 in a night game at Philadelphia. Root, the Cubs' winning hurler, blasted a home in the second and his battery mate, McCullough, hit for the circuit with two aboard in the third inning.

And before a sell-out crowd of 22,265 in Brooklyn, the St. Louis Cardinals went on a five-run spree in the sixth inning to turn in a 7-4 win over the Dodgers. Whitlow Wyatt, seeking his 14th win, had a 4-2 lead behind him when he cranked in the fatal seventh.

A. A. ALL STARS TOO STRONG FOR MILLER OUTFIT

MINNEAPOLIS, July 17—Spectacular pitching and timely hitting was the story today of the 1941 American Association All-Stars baseball game, which the All-Stars won, 6 to 1, last night from the Minneapolis Millers.

A field crowd of 10,471 in the Millers' home park, Nicollet, saw Ray Starr of Indianapolis, Johnny Grodzicki of Columbus, and Lefty Dave Kosal of Milwaukee hold the Millers to only one hit in the first six frames, each hurler working two innings. Minneapolis got five other blows, including Fabian Gaffke's shutout-averting homer in the ninth, off Columbus Southpaw Harry Breechen in the last three stanzas.

Elon "Chief" Hogsett, starting Miller moundman, was the loser. He was nicked for the All-Stars first two runs in his three-inning tenure. Starr was awarded the victory.

Columbus players copped the hitting honors, with Ray Sanders and Harry Walker notching three hits apiece of the Stars' total 13. Sanders batted in half of the Stars' runs, and Walker contributed a triple.

The score by innings:
All-Stars . . . 011 002 101—6 13 0
Minneapolis . . . 000 000 001—1 5 1

HEROES AND GOATS

Heroes: Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller, Yanks. Joe ran his hitting streak through 56 games and Charley hit his 20th homer against Indians. Cecil Hughson, Red Sox, who trimmed White Sox with four hits, Chet Laabs, Browns, who hit two homers against Athletics.

Goats: Chubby Dean, Athletics, slaughtered by Browns; Bucky Walters, Reds, slammed by Giants. Al Milnar, Indians, routed by Yanks. Luke Appling, White Sox, who made costly error against Red Sox.

WALTERS FAILS TO HALT GIANTS IN 7 TO 4 TILT

NEW YORK, July 17 — The Cincinnati Reds have been having trouble with veterans all season. Their standby pitchers haven't been hurling winning ball; their standby hitters haven't been punching their weight. But today the luckless Reds could look back on veteran trouble of a different sort.

They ran into a couple of New York Giants yesterday that, according to baseball's rigid standards, should have been retired long ago. The gentlemen's names are Gabby Hartnett and Dick Bartell, and they blasted Bucky Walters off the mound to pace the Giants to a 7 to 4 victory.

Hartnett doubled twice, once with the bases loaded, while Bartell's three bingles drove in three counts.

Walters was charged with his seventh defeat against 11 wins, and although hit hard, he still can claim to be baseball's hard luck boy. His mates outthit the Giants, 13 to 10, but errors by Frey and Joost let in four unearned runs.

Elmer Riddle, brightest star in the Red's sky, will go after his 11th win without defeat in tonight's tilt, which will close the two-game series. He will have no easy pickings, as he will be opposed by Bill Lohrman, who blanked the Reds with three singles the last time he faced them.

BEST GOLF PROS IN NATION SEEK CHICAGO'S GOLD

CHICAGO, July 17—The young but already important Chicago Open golf tournament comes up for its fourth renewal tomorrow at the Elmhurst Country Club, with all the ranking champions ready to give handsome Dick Metz plenty of trouble in his defense of the crown he won a year ago.

In addition to Metz, the two other former winners of the Chicago title—Gene Sarazen and Sam Snead—also will be in the field of 200. There will also be the current National Open and PGA titleholders, Craig Wood and Vic Ghezzi, respectively, along with all the other big names of the links.

From so topnotch an aggregation, it would be difficult to select a favorite, but from the popular standpoint alone nothing would please the fans more than to see Wood win this one. The big blond fellow from New York's Winged Foot Club is having his best year, with the National Open and Masters' championships already his. Metz also would be a popular winner, but so would practically any of the others.

Well backed as usual was little Ben Hogan, biggest money earner and Vardon Trophy winner of 1940, who is leading both department's again this year. Denny Shute, runner-up to Wood in the National, also had his gallery, with Lawson Little, the 1940 National Open winner, well up in the pre-meet running.

The program for the three-day shooting for a $5,000 pot calls for 18 holes tomorrow and another 18 Saturday to determine which 48 pros and ties and 24 amateurs and ties will go into Sunday's final 36-hole stretch.

Blue Ribbon Dairymen Sure Of Top Berth Tie

Chubby Valentine's home run in the top half of the seventh inning and ability of his teammates to halt the Purina Chows with one run short of enough to tie up the ball game in their half of the inning won a Softball League game Wednesday evening for the Blue Ribbon Dairy, 5-4. The victory assured the Dairy of at least a share of the first half consolation.

The Dairy crew led 4-2 as the seventh started. Valentine hit his home run leading off in the seventh frame to make the score 5-2. Two runs manufactured by the Chows were just one short of deadlocking the ball game.

The contest was well played and interesting throughout.

The biggest blow of the game was Coffland's home run for the Dairy in the top of the second with two mates aboard.

No game is scheduled Thursday evening, the Blue Ribbon Dairy and Circleville Lumber meeting Friday night.

GREED ALMOST FATAL

SALISBURY BEACH, Mass.—A hungry sea gull almost sacrificed itself to its own greed. The sea gull saw a baited line dangling from the side of a fishing boat and swooped down to swallow it. As the bird tried to fly away with the bait, the fishing line pulled it up short. Life Guards Allan M. Lamond and John Labadini freed it from the fishing line.

Last Barrier Before Soviet Capital Falls

WRECKED CITY OF SMOLENSK HELD BY NAZIS

More Major Victories To Come Soon, Berlin Says; Russians Silent

NINE MILLIONS BATTLE

Polotsk Fortress And Chief City In Bessarabia Also Grabbed, Reich Asserts

MOSCOW, July 17—Heavy fighting during the night in the region of Pskov and Porkhov on the northern sector of the Russo-German battle front was announced by the Soviet high command today.

A previous Russian war bulletin revealed a serious threat to Russian defenses on the central front by admitting German legions have approached the region of Smolensk.

Capture of vital Smolensk, last major defense barrier on the road to Moscow—225 miles to the east—was announced today by Adolf Hitler's headquarters, with further assertions that other major victories are shaping up for the Germans.

Nine million men are locked in a death struggle in this mightiest of all battles of the far-flung eastern front, German GHQ said, adding that the issue is no longer in doubt.

The city of Smolensk is little more than a charred heap of rubble, the communique declared.

The fortress of Polotsk has fallen in the north and the city of Kishinev, capital of Bessarabia, in the south, the Nazi high command declared. The Ukrainian capital of Kiev was said to be surrounded and besieged.

The Soviet high command for once did not completely dispute the German claims. Without going into specific engagements, the Red army headquarters admitted that heavy fighting was going on in the Smolensk area.

(Smolensk lies approximately fifty miles behind the front fortifications of the mystery-shrouded "Stalin Line.")

Nazi Force Transferred

As this Titanic battle raged in the East, London announced further devastating air raids on Hamburg and other important German cities. It was indicated that the British had succeeded in their aim of drawing Luftwaffe units from the eastern to the Western Front.

Raiding Royal Air Force squadrons encountered more and better Nazi planes.

Still further east, Japan was

The general made the 110th Battalion of the Quartermaster Corps march 15 miles for "yoo-hooing" at girl golfers on a Memphis, Tenn., course.

London Announces Loss Of Lady Somers; Spaniards In Rescue Role

LONDON, July 17—The British admiralty announced today that the auxiliary vessel Lady Somers was sunk but that 138 survivors from the total complement of 175 were rescued by Spanish ships and are being landed at a neutral port.

The Lady Somers was a twin-screw vessel of 8,194 tons, formerly operated by the Canadian National Steamships, Ltd.

She was one of the so-called "ladyboats" which operated in the West Indies and was familiar to all travelers between Bermuda, the Bahamas and Cuba.

LONDON—The Exchange Telegraph (British) news agency today quoted the Moscow radio as reporting a revolt has broken out among Italian troops scheduled to be dispatched to the Polish frontier.

LONDON—Seven United States marines and six American Red Cross nurses, the last batch of American survivors from the torpedoed steamer Maasdam, arrived in London today. This accounted for all the Americans aboard the vessel except two nurses.

WINNIPEG, Man. — After a two-months intensive recruiting campaign, 60,000 additional volunteers have been received in Canada's fighting forces, it was announced officially today by the Dominion Minister of Defense, J. L. Ralston. Fifteen thousand of the volunteers were accepted in the flying forces and the navy, the rest went into the army.

LONDON—Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's trusted aide, arrived in London this afternoon on another visit of inspection.

Request From Berlin Cited By Rome After Diplomatic Train Is Held Up

AXIS ENVOYS AT SEA

Transport West Point On Voyage After Being Halted At Start

ROME, July 17—"In compliance with a request from the German government," the Italian foreign office informed the United States embassy in Rome today that the train carrying ousted American consular agents from Italy to Lisbon, Portugal, must remain in Italy several more days.

The special train with the American officials and members of their families aboard is now at San Remo near the Italo-French border.

It was halted there yesterday after leaving Rome because, according to Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, departure of the transport vessel West Point from New York, with axis consular agents ousted from the United States—had been delayed.

With regard to the exchange of consular personnel, the foreign office informed the American embassy, the Italian government decided to hold the American consular train in Italy for several days.

Trades Considered

The foreign office said arrangements will be made for exchange of consular groups to occur in such manner and at such place as will permit the groups to pass from jurisdiction of the exchanging countries simultaneously.

As a result of this notification, it was believed the train carrying the Americans will not be permitted to leave San Remo until Sunday.

Meanwhile, permission to leave Italy was granted a number of American citizens, including Mrs. Collins, wife of the American vice consul at Florence, and four employees of the American Express Co., Athens branch who are now in Italy.

This permission was granted after officials commandeered

STATE INDUSTRY NEEDS WORKERS FOR VITAL JOBS

COLUMBUS, July 17—Ohio industry is in desperate need of 37,605 defense workers by October 1, the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Most serious shortages in the state, the BUC reported, are at Cleveland, Springfield and Lima. Cleveland industries will need 11,163 men, but have a supply of only 6,649. Springfield will need 3,737 but has a supply of only 369 and Lima will need 1,700 and has a supply of only 288.

14,000 PLANE FACTORY WORKERS WIN BOOST

NEW YORK, July 17—The 14,000 workers in the airplane division of the Buffalo plant of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation will receive approximately $5,500,000 in wage increases in an award announced today by the American Arbitration Association.

The award, representing an average increase of 11½ cents an hour, was made retroactive to May 1 and will continue until December 1, 1941, when there will be a review. The pay grant followed 13 days of hearings before a five-man board.

SECOND DRAFT LOTTERY AT 7

142 Counties Awaiting Draw To Determine Order Of Call

One hundred and forty-two Circleville and Pickaway County young men who registered last week for the second draft were awaiting Thursday for the second National Lottery to learn in what order they will be called for service in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

The draft lottery is scheduled to start at 7 p. m. in Washington, D. C. when high government officials, Army and Navy commanders, congressmen and even draftees themselves will start drawing little salmon colored capsules from the famous gold fish bowl.

The capsules contain the serial numbers which will classify in order the 750,000 youths who have reached the age of 21 since the first drawing last October 29. The lottery will be a miniature duplication of the original event when more than 16,000,000 registrants between the ages of 21 and 36 were assigned their sequence numbers.

In Ohio the highest registration was Cuyahoga County board No. 15, which listed 277.

Ohio's 330 draft boards will assign order numbers in three or four days, as soon as the official master lists are received from Washington. The new registrants will be included in a master list of all prospective selectees, old and new.

The number of the last man inducted into the army on June 30 will be subtracted from the total number of registrants in the local board. The difference will be divided by the number of new registrants in the board to determine the ratio number. Should the number be 10, for instance, the new registrants will be inserted in sequence, one after every tenth man on the list of those remaining to be inducted.

Ohioans who will participate in the National Draft Lottery—all non-commissioned officers who were inducted into the army from the state under the Selective Service program—include Sgt. James Bradley, Camp Lee, Columbus; Cpl. W. C. Roberts, Camp Lee, Franklin County; Sgt. L. B. Pepper, Camp Lee, Shelby County; Cpl. Samuel G. Crews, Ft. Belvoir, Dayton, and Cpl. Charles F. Tate, Ft. Belvoir, Bucyrus.

MAJOR J. E. HALL, WAYNE TOWNSHIP NATIVE, DIES

A native of Wayne Township and a school mate of Judge Meeker Terwilliger, Major James Elliott Hall, 58, of Columbus, died Wednesday in Grant Hospital after a lengthy illness. Major Hall had been president of the American Utilities Company until retirement five years ago.

He served in the Quartermaster Procurement Division during the World War, being stationed at Washington D. C., and removed to Columbus in 1919. He was a member of the Reserve Officers Association, the Army and Navy Club and the Ohio State Archeological Society.

Lindy Writes to F.D.R. Protesting Attacks On Him By Cabinet Member

Ace Declares He Is Not Connected In Any Way With Foreign Government

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 17—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today made formal protest to President Roosevelt because of attacks on him by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and asked an apology from that cabinet member.

Secretary Ickes in a New York address last Monday charged that Colonel Lindbergh was a mouthpiece of the Nazi party line in this country and repeatedly characterized Lindbergh as "this knight of the German eagle."

In his letter to the President, Colonel Lindbergh declared flatly he is not connected in any way with any foreign government and reminded Mr. Roosevelt that his decoration by the German government occurred while he was carrying out the request of the American ambassador to Germany, Colonel Lindbergh also offered to appear before a presidentially appointed committee and face investigation into his activities.

Colonel Lindbergh's letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. President: I address you, sir, as an American citizen to his President. I write concerning statements made by an officer of your cabinet, the secretary of interior.

"For many months, and on numerous occasions, your secretary of the interior has implied in public meetings that I am connected with the interests of a foreign government, and he has specifically criticized me for accepting a decoration from the German government in 1938.

"Mr. President, it is too much to ask that you inform your secretary of the interior that I was decorated by the German government while I was carrying out the

FARMER'S HIP HURT AS WAGON GOES DOWN HILL

Alfred Paxton, Laurelville farmer, suffered a broken right hip when he was thrown from his wagon when working late Wednesday.

Paxton was taken to Lancaster Hospital by the Deffenbaugh ambulance. According to the injured farmer, a doubletree came unhooked as his team was pulling the wagon up a hill, causing his wagon to break loose from the team and run back down the hill. Paxton was thrown off when the wagon rolled down the hill out of control.

Gale Hits Thomas Farm, Scene Of Construction

Three men were sent to Berger Hospital Wednesday about 3:30 p. m. when rafters on the Kermit Thomas barn, west of Circleville, on which they were working, were torn loose by a strong wind, letting all three men fall 30 feet to the ground.

Injured were Ralph Young, 36, Stoutsville; Martin Compton, 32, Stoutsville Route 1, and Addison Lovett, 23, Stoutsville Route 1. Hospital authorities said Thursday that Young was suffering from a fractured pelvis, a fractured left leg and a compound fracture of the left arm. Compton has a fractured left ankle and Lovett a slight skull fracture, a nose fracture and multiple lacerations.

According to Compton, he, Young and Lovett were on the roof of the barn when it collapsed. "I was at the eaves and Young and Lovett were at the cone when the wind came up and we were attempting to get the rafters securely fastened before the wind got too strong," he said. "All of a sudden half the rafters tore loose and let us down. A short time later the remaining rafters let go and the whole top framework tumbled in."

Passerby Assists

Compton and Lovett were taken to Berger Hospital by Fred Tipton, Williamsport, who happened along shortly after the accident happened. Young was taken to the hospital by the Rinehart ambulance.

Two others, Kermit Thomas, for whom the barn was being constructed, and James Lovett, Stoutsville, foreman of the carpenter crew, were working on the mow floor of the structure when the rafters fell, but were not injured.

The barn is a 84 by 90 foot structure with the mow floor about 10 feet off the ground. The lower portion of the building is constructed of glazed brick. It is located near the intersection of Routes 22 and 104.

No other serious damage was reported in the county from the wind and rain storm. Agricultural Agent F. K. Blair said he had had no reports from farmers of damage to crops. Although hail was reported in some sections of the state, none fell in the Circleville vicinity. Hail this time of year would bring severe damage to the county's corn crop, County Agent Blair said.

Temperatures Wednesday fell to 63 after the storm after reaching a high of 91 at noon. Total rainfall was .12 inches.

JERSEY CROWD DEFIES POLICE TO END STRIKE

BENDIX, N. J., July 17—A rioting mob at the gates of the Air Associates, Inc., plant today defied efforts of police to disperse it with tear gas and even when the police fired live bullets over their heads, the crowd of 2,000 men and women stuck doggedly to the assignment of keeping workers out of the plant.

Several men were injured in clashes and workers' automobiles were showered with rocks as the day shift reported at the plant.

The CIO United Automobile Workers Union, aviation division, called a strike at the plant over the dismissal of nine employees a week ago.

Two men were arrested in a disturbance at the plant gates earlier this week.

FOUR TO THREE BALLOT PASSES VITAL MEASURE

Action On Parallel-Angle Argument Delayed After Emergency Fails

REID'S VOTE DECIDES

Safety Department Points Out Need For Definite Lining System

City Council Wednesday night passed the parking meter ordinance by a vote of four to three and assured the city of parking meters in its business section.

It failed, however, to take final action on the ordinance providing for parallel parking, and efforts of councilmen anxious to decide on a parking program, were checked for at least three more weeks. Next regular council meeting will be August 6.

Final action on the meter regulation came after Councilman W. M. Reid moved that the lengthy ordinance be given its third reading by title only. Reid's motion passed with Councilmen Frank Lynch and B. H. Gordon dissenting. Councilman Clarence Helvering did not vote.

With the measure then open for vote, Councilman George Crites, J. H. Helvering, J. D. Masor and Reid voted the ordinance through. Dissenting were Councilmen Helvering, Lynch and Gordon. The deciding vote was cast by Councilman Reid, who told his colleagues that although his "yes" vote might cost him his seat in the council, he believed the issue was one in which politics should not play a part.

Parallel Bill Held Up

Councilmen Gordon, Helvering and Lynch were successful however, in keeping the parallel parking meter ordinance from coming up for a final vote. After the measure was given its second reading, Councilman Reid called for a suspension of the rules and

U. S. WILL MAKE ICELAND MAJOR NAVAL, AIR BASE

WASHINGTON, July 17—Iceland will be converted into a powerful United States naval and air base by the use of "blank check" defense appropriations previously granted President Roosevelt.

That was the report today of informed congressmen, who listed the following as the primary defensive installations planned for the recently occupied northern outpost:

A major flying field from which planes can take-off for a ceaseless patrol of surrounding waters. A huge naval operating and repair base for American ships engaged in keeping sea-lanes open, and also for use in case of war and possible big-scale naval action in the Atlantic.

A network of a dozen or so smaller flying fields strategically located about the island so that an enemy could not put air defenses out of action by seizing one or two major fields—as the Germans are said to have done when they drove the British out of Crete.

HOG MART IN CHICAGO TOUCHES PEAK OF $12

CHICAGO, July 17—Hogs today swept to a top of $12, the highest Chicago price since October, 1937, when the top was $12.25.

The average cost on the Chicago market was around $11.25, $2.25 above the announced goal of the government's pork buying program. Prices today were 10 to 15 cents higher than the strong market yesterday.

3,696 SCHOOL PUPILS LISTED FOR LAST YEAR

McDowell Releases Annual Report Of Activities In Pickaway Area

ENROLLMENT DOWN LITTLE

23 Buildings Used And 80 Buses Needed; 218 Boys, Girls Pay Tuition

Net enrollment in Pickaway County schools for the school year ending June 30, 1941 was 3,696, according to the annual statistical report of county schools, released Thursday by Superintendent George McDowell.

The total net enrollment runs slightly under last year's figure of 3,724 and follows a trend of decreasing enrollment in the public schools during the last few years. School officials believe a decrease in birth rate may be responsible for the smaller number of pupils in the schools.

Net enrollment in the county elementary schools totaled 2,559, with 1,332 boys and 1,227 girls enrolled. In the high schools there were 535 boys and 602 girls for a total of 1,137 high school pupils in the county.

Average daily attendance in the county elementary schools was 2,368.42 and in the high schools, 1,027.40, for a total average daily attendance of 3,395.82.

Total aggregate days attendance was 426,319 in the elementary schools and 184,930 in the high schools for a grand total of 611,249.

Figure for aggregate days of absence in the elementary schools was 30,264 and in the high school, 12,399.50.

23 Buildings Used

During the last school year there were 23 school buildings in use in the county. One elementary school hired two teachers, three elementary schools, employed three teachers, four employed four or more teachers. Total number of elementary teachers in the county was 94, 24 men and 70 women. In the high schools there were 33 men teachers and 38 women teachers for a total county school faculty of 165.

Eighty school buses, with seating capacity for 3,614 boys and girls, transported a total of 2,948 pupils, 296 outside the district, to the county schools. Forty-three of the buses were contract owned, 14 were part contract and part board owned and 23 were board owned.

The county schools' libraries last year contained 6,249 volumes for elementary pupils and 16,113 volumes for high school pupils. During the year 899 books at a cost of $987 were added to the schools' libraries. All of the county schools were served by the county bookmobile, operating out of the Circleville Public Library.

Tuition Listed

Two hundred eighteen tuition paid pupils were sent to the county high schools at a cost of $9.72. Nine of the schools have cafeterias which served 845 pupils daily during the 1940-41 school year.

County schools this spring graduated 237 pupils from the eighth grade. Of the total 107 were boys and 139 were girls. The high schools graduated 198 pupils, eighty boys and 118 girls. Forty-three of the graduates indicated their intentions to attend college.

Valuation of county school sites amounts to $23,956 and valuation of the school buildings, $1,211,898. Valuation of school equipment figures $111,022.

PRICE FIXING

During the World War the wholesale price of all commodities rose from 85 to 154 in 3 1/2 years. (These index figures are based on 1926-100.) This was 81 percent.

When the war ended the same prices crashed from 154 back to 98 in a few months. Every one remembers too well the disastrous effect on agriculture, employment, wages. The flotsam and jetsam of that whirlpool have not yet been washed out of our economy.

As prices rose there were strikes to equal the cost of living. Added wages further increased prices. Then more strikes. And after the war ended and prices collapsed there were still more strikes to keep wages from going down, as for example, the coal strike of 1922.

It is human nature to use the rising cost of living to raise wages, but never the falling cost of living to reduce wages. We are all alike in this respect.

The War of 1812 sent prices up from 94 to 155. The Civil War from 61 to 132. Every war in our history has practically doubled prices with the single exception of the Mexican war of 1846.

Further, these price rises are not limited to monopoly commodities, as for example, aluminum. During the World War beans went from 100 to 246 and potatoes from 100 to 311. Wage scales in the building trades went from 100 to 190; in the coal mines they went to 262; and in manufacturing to 263.

It is fashionable to blame war on Wall Street. But let us be honest. Because of his great devotion to "make the world safe for democracy" a farmer did not refuse a trebled price for his mule.

But did this seesaw between rising prices and rising wages, even while it continued, do any one any good? Very few. Meantime it did unnecessarily increase the cost of the war, according to Bernard Baruch, by fifteen billion dollars which is now in our national debt.

The fact that few benefited, even on the up-curve, is shown by considering real wages, which is money wages, divided by the cost of living. Federal employees in the District of Columbia saw their weekly cash wages go from 100 to 140; but their real wages fell from 100 to 80. Teachers' cash wages rose from 100 to 184, but their real wages during the entire period of the war went below par.

In the building trades cash weekly wages went from 100 to 135, but real wages below par. In railroad cash wages went as high as 220, but real wages never above 118. Soft coal miners got cash increases up to 245, but during the war real wages did not go beyond 117. In 8 manufacturing industries cash wages went to 240 but real wages only to 120.

In short, the cost of living more than cancelled out the money wage increases to federal employees and teachers. And it nearly cancelled out the increases in the building trades, railroads, mines and manufacturing. All persons living on fixed incomes, pensioners of previous wars, for example, were much worse off.

From this it can be seen that labor as a whole did not profit much from the war. It is easy to remember the "silk shirt" days, but it is forgotten that while the worker had more dollars, shirts sold at $15 which were really worth only a third of that figure.

So the nation as a whole in a time of "war prosperity" was simply changing dollars. Few benefited on the rise, many were definitely worse off on the rise and in the crash that followed, the casualties covered every field. Meantime the public debt was greatly increased.

Not the least of the evils of war is this terrific dislocation followed by disillusionment as to the efficiency of democratic processes to save people from the horrors of war and the disasters of peace.

Will the process be repeated now? It is being repeated. Wholesale prices in many commodities have already advanced as much as they did in an equal period a quarter century ago. Mr. Leon Henderson is trying to keep prices from rising, but in 1917-1918 we also had a price control board with results noted.

Reasons why the process will probably be repeated are: 1. Pressure for wage increases to justify labor leaders—"See what we got you." 2. Political voting alliance with labor. 2. Pressure from organized farm leaders against price controls. 4. No appeal for universal sacrifice from the First Family down to the lowest.

The thrifty citizen, however, is not wholly helpless. He seldom is. He can get old debts paid, especially on his home. He can avoid new debt. And he can salt this "prosperity" away against the next collapse.

The first railroad tunnel was the Woodhead tunnel, in England, which was begun in the spring of 1839. The first train passed through Dec. 2, 1845.

BOOKKEEPER AT BANK CONFESSES $307,000 THEFT

CHICAGO, July 17 — Extradition proceedings were expected to be started promptly today for the removal of William D. Sahn, 32, to Lancaster, Pa., where he faces charges of having embezzled $307,000 from the Northern Bank and Trust Company.

Sahn, head bookkeeper at the bank, disappeared from Lancaster six weeks ago when the alleged shortage was discovered. Police who arrested him in a Chicago hotel room yesterday quoted him as admitting thefts of $207,000 from the bank over an eight-year period.

"But it may have been more," Sahn was quoted. "After all, the bank ought to know."

He will not fight extradition, Sahn said. He told detectives: "I'm willing to back and pay the penalty for my mistake."

According to the story Sahn gave police, his first theft occurred eight years ago when the bank was reorganized and his salary of $105 a month was cut.

"The first amount I took was $100," he related. "It was lost on the horses, as was practically all the rest. After I lost that first time, I had to keep going. If I'd ever gotten even, I'd have quit. But I never did. I never had any luck."

Mostly, Sahn told police, he took $100 at a time, but sometime it was $500 and once $2,500. He kept two sets of books, he said, one for the bank and one for bank examiners. He was discovered when the examiners made an unexpected visit May 13 and it was then he fled, he said.

Sahn is married and the father of a son, Richard, 4. He said neither his wife nor anyone else knew anything of his embezzlements.

SCHOOL FOR ALIENS

LAST year the alien check-up showed more than 5,000,000 aliens over 14 years old living in this country, most of whom had taken no steps toward citizenship. It was recognized that something should be done about the grown-ups. It is no time for any country to harbor millions of people who "don't belong."

This fact has been appreciated by most of the aliens themselves, as is shown by the large and growing numbers applying for citizenship. Every intelligent alien knows that this is a poor time to live anywhere without national allegiance and protection. As war and warlike ideologies sweep over other nations, our free and decent system grows increasingly attractive to aliens living here or able to come.

So it was a happy thought to embark on a big citizenship program, to round up eligible and willing aliens who have good stuff in them and bring them into the national fold. The Works Project Administration could hardly have found better use for its funds and energies. But the mere act of naturalization is not enough in itself. The finest thing about this innovation is the widespread and well-devised plan whereby, under the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the applicants for naturalization will be formally trained in "the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship."

And it may be said with flippancy that millions of our people who are already citizens, including many who were born Americans, might profit by this instruction plan.

TUNG OIL

ANOTHER step toward self-sufficiency is being made in the experimental planting of tung trees in our southern states, near the Gulf Coast. This is done with a view to providing our own supply of tung oil, at present produced only in China. The oil is needed in vast quantities for paint, varnish, linoleum, printer's ink and so on.

It would be unfortunate for China to be deprived of its market for this product. Our purchases have helped the government there as much as anything to carry on its defensive war against Japan. But new trees will not bear for several years. The Chinese patriots may be safely out of the woods before such a problem arises. And there will be plenty of other things to trade.

General Hagood says the men in the army should be called "soldiers" instead of draftees, etc. Wonder why nobody thought of that before!

'ROUND CIRCLEVILLE ... Hour by Hour

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up early to a glorious morning and pondered the fact that this would be great fishing weather if one were able to wade a stream. All that tackle of mine and a grand outboard motor existing in uselessness. Turned to the breakfast table, coffee and the morning prints. Much irked by the so-called war news from the Russian front. One just does not know what to believe. Darn a liar who tells the truth once in a while. Noted that the Reds are flirting with the second division. About as much punch as the Italian army.

Came a card from England, written by a chap in the A. E. F. Nothing about the war at all. This warrior is a radio ham and he said he is looking toward resuming his interesting contacts with American amateurs when "this spot of bother" is over. Imagine one in the very thick of the world's worst war referring to it as "a spot of bother." Closed with "Cheerio." Very fine people, most of the English.

Noted the difficult position of our congressmen on the proposition to hold draftees and guardsmen in service longer than a year. Undoubtedly a lot of votes will be lost if they vote "yes," yet I don't see how they can do otherwise if this "crisis" is as bad as we are told to believe. Maybe the situation would be eased if the "crisis" were wheeled out for public inspection. I would like to see what the thing looks like, I've heard so much about it.

Gene Geib is at Camp St. Joseph and wrote home, "We get up so early in the morning that dinner seems like supper." Then there was the chap who returned home after sleeping for six months on an army cot. Couldn't wait to get into a bed. Then he dreamed all night of sleeping on an army cot.

Drove a few miles into the country to see whether the corn is as tall as George Roth insisted. Said some of it would have to be "logged" this year. Chatted with Harry Hill, who has quit attending the wrestling shows in Columbus. Says the matches are not fixed enough to be interesting. Harry likes action, and one doesn't get action in a wrestling match that is anywhere near on the level.

WASHINGTON — The Administration had a hard time making up its mind to go into Iceland. Actually the Navy had orders four different times to prepare for the trip, and three times the orders were cancelled or held in abeyance.

It was last May that some of the Marines were embarked at Quantico. They sailed down the Potomac to Norfolk, then to Charleston, S. C., were kept in suspense regarding their destination until about two weeks ago.

As far as naval officers could ascertain, there was no particular reason for the frequent changes in plans except that the President was not quite sure of American public opinion. Naval officers flew several times to Iceland in advance of the landing, conferred with the British about all details of the occupation. The Navy was completely prepared.

There is no question that the President has made all the decisions regarding Iceland, even down to such details as whether newspapermen should be permitted to visit the island after the landing of American troops.

The State Department approved the idea of American newsmen going to this new American outpost. So also did Secretary of the Navy Knox. Both felt that just as American newsmen were in France during the last war and reported on the actions of American troops, so newsmen had a right to keep the public informed about American troops in Iceland.

But apparently some of the Admirals did not agree with their chief, the Secretary of the Navy, and tipped off the White House. The President intervened personally and said that no newsmen could go to Iceland.

NOTE—Despite all the news suppression demanded by the Admirals, Spanish, Japanese and Swedish ships, all close to or dominated by the Axis, keep their radios operating while in American ports or American waters. It is highly unlikely that they fail to note the presence of British vessels or U. S. transports loaded with American Marines.

Among other aids to Great Britain, you can look for the lease or lend of more submarines. About one-third of the original U. S. submarines sent to Britain exactly a year ago now have been sunk or put out of commission. Greece, Crete, and Atlantic warfare took the toll. The Navy is sore at the State Department for not doing a little warming up to Russian commanders in Siberia. If Russia falls, it will be good to have an in with the Red Army in this neck of the woods opposite Alaska, but apparently we are letting the Japanese do the warming up. A postage stamp is not really a stamp. When the adhesive stamp was first introduced it was known as a label. The stamp is really what we call the postmark.

Appendicitis is so common anymore.

Senator Chapple brought in a parade torch, the first I have seen since I was a very small boy. But this one was not like the ones I remembered, the kind with a broomstick handle, a shining tin can with a great wick. This really was a torch. A fancy turned hardwood handle, the torch itself beautifully made of brass and so set that it always remains upright no matter in what position the handle is held. No wick at all, just a rather large-mouthed container for the oil, and a heavy lid to drop atop at the end of the parade. This one was carried for the first time in the Elaine campaign.

DIET AND HEALTH

Ketogenic Diet for Acidosis

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

● Last year I published the details of the ketogenic diet for epilepsy. So many inquiries have been received asking for exact details that I take this opportunity to respond and publish a sample day's menu.

The essential feature of the diet is high fat and low sugar and starch content. After a few days of this state of acidosis should be created; and acidosis always makes for sedation. The brain centers are as depressed by acidosis as if the patient were taking bromides. It is the same thing that happens in diabetes when coma comes on. The diabetic body does not burn sugars and starches and since the fats burn in the flame of the carbohydrate, they are incompletely oxidized and certain bodies—the ketone bodies—remain. Hence the name ketogenic diet.

Candy Gave Child Fits

In practice the diet often works very well for epilepsy, especially with children. A friend of mine told a story about being in a small country town and he stood treat to a group of small boys who gathered around by buying them all candy. One of them refused and said—"Mister, I wouldn't eat one of those candy bars for fifty dollars because as sure as I did I would have a fit when I got home." The story illustrates the fact that when even a youthful patient who likes candy is getting results, he will stick to the diet.

Judge Diet by Results

The diet, however, is troublesome and tiresome, and unless the attacks are greatly diminished in number and severity, it should not be continued for more than a month. Before discarding it, however, one should be sure that the diet being used is really ketogenic

DEATH AT THE SWITCH
By RICHARD HOUGHTON
WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

THE CEILING plate for the electric light came away in Henry's hands, revealing a hole where the wiring had been. Instead of wiring, the hole contained a .32-caliber revolver pointing directly downward!

"Look!" cried Henry, pointing his flashlight into the hole for a better illumination. "There's a switch motor hooked to the trigger. The crash of those trains closed a circuit that fired the gun!"

Spinnelli, squatting on the floor as he came into the room through the low opening, had to rock far back on his heels in order to tilt his stiff neck enough to see the weapon. He stared at it in amazement. "B-but, I thought Ives was shot from behind!"

"So did we all. We . . ." He stopped, then jumped down from the table. "Listen!" he whispered. "I hear the voice of our murderer!"

The outer door had opened. A confusion of voices came from the club members, who apparently had arrived in a body under escort of the sheriff and his men.

"Why, Mrs. Potter!" exclaimed Marcia, "what a surprise to find you here!"

"Is that husband of yours first on the job again?" asked Susan. Her words sounded almost flippant, and Henry knew she had not been told about Laurence.

"He be a good worker," commented Hans.

"Stop it!" cried Stanley King. "Stop it, all of you! Can't you see you're driving me mad? Why did you have to bring me here tonight?"

Henry ducked back under the train table into the main room and stood up. "I'll tell you why, Mr. King. We came here because we know at last how Mr. Ives was killed—and who killed him!"

The banker paled and stepped back. "Get away from me! You killed him, Henry Potter!"

Henry shook his head. "You're wrong. I thought for a while that your fear of me was faded—but I learned tonight how genuine it is! But I did not kill the man who hated you!"

"Hated me?"

"Of course he hated you. When he wrote in his last letter that, 'Evil is afoot in our village,' he meant you. He blamed you for the heavy losses suffered by your neighbors in that railroad stock deal, and he hated you more when you refused to give up any of your money to help them afterward."

The sheriff interrupted impatiently. "Okay, okay! We know that. Who killed John Ives?"

Henry faced the assembled group, tasting his triumph slowly. Everyone seemed holding his breath, waiting for Henry's next words. Even on Mrs. Potter's face was an expression of something akin to awe. Her mouth was partly open. No one paid any attention when Spinnelli emerged from under the table and cautiously stood up.

Henry helped the wounded man, and to the listeners said, "Mr. Spinnelli was not stabbed by the killer of Ives. That was where the police made their first mistake. Mr. Spinnelli was stabbed by old George, Mrs. Willett's father."

The group gasped, and turned of one accord on the old man, who stood there blinking—making no denial.

"Old George," continued Henry, "was sure that Spinnelli had murdered Ives. Remember how he and Mrs. Willett—or maybe it was just Mrs. Willett—tried to frame Mr. Spinnelli in that seance? George knew—Mrs. Willett had told him—that if Ives was murdered it probably would be by someone who had been cheated in that stock deal, and that the next victim of the murderer would be Stanley King. George is devoted to Mr. King. George, you'd give your life for him, wouldn't you?"

Old George nodded eagerly, apparently unaware of the seriousness of the crime charged against him. "Yes!" he croaked. "Nobody going to hurt Mr. King!"

Henry smiled at the breathless group. "And so, when it seemed certain to old George that Professor Bisbee was the murderer, and the police were letting him go, George lured him into the hills with a telephone call and shot him through the head."

King staggered forward. "My God, no! George, you didn't do that?"

The old man's mouth was open, his eyes wide and frightened—but he couldn't help nodding his head.

"It was a terrible thing," said Henry, the triumphant note gone from his voice. "Of course, the old man is not mentally responsible. He will be put away in an institution. He tried to kill me, too—once by rifle shot and once by throwing rocks on me in a well. It seems he knew of a secret way down through a well and the old railroad tunnel to cover his trail when people took after him. And he was a dead shot because he had hunted so many rabbits that fed on Mr. King's gardens. He always shot at the head."

King protested. "But George wasn't at the meeting of the club the night Ives was killed. He didn't kill Ives!"

Henry agreed. He looked with pity at the old man who was trembling in the grip of two deputies. "No, George didn't kill Ives. We've always gone on the assumption that there was only one killer. I saw the mistake in that when I discovered tonight's murder."

Gasps of surprise interrupted him. Most of the model railroaders were unaware of the death of Laurence.

"I saw that tonight's victim was not shot in the head," Henry continued. "And George was standing beside me when we heard the shot. I knew he didn't do it. It couldn't have been one of the gun traps he set at the windows of the King house to prevent me—the man he at last decided was the murderer—from getting in. The shot was fired in the woods. I saw that there must be at least two killers—and if there were two, why couldn't there be three?"

"Good Lord!" exclaimed John Jones, who stood at the rear of the group. "Three?"

"Yes, and you were right in your first suspicion. The death of Ives was what all the rest of us thought it couldn't be. Except Professor Bisbee. He guessed right. The only one of us who had anything to do with it was Hans."

The auto mechanic turned a pasty white. "Ay—Ay! By golly, that be a lie!"

"Oh, your part in it was perfectly innocent," Henry said hastily, and sent out by Berlin. None of the boys are wearing whiskers.

Bathing caps that look like wigs are on the market. About time. Heretofore too many wigs have looked like bathing caps.

STARS SAY—

For Thursday, July 17

THE AUGURY for this day is for a memorable and progressive state of affairs, with probable change, innovations and surprising turns in the wheel of fortune contributing to its pleasure and success. Radical or novel ideas, plans or projects may thrive under the supervision or collaboration of those in power or of group support or recognition. Daring and dramatic moves may prove productive, despite some trivial annoyances or some more regrettable domestic concern. Elders may cause this anxiety. Be circumspect in all personal relations.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of progress and probably thrilling experiences, in connection with public activities or in collaboration with high authorities, superiors or influential personages. This may involve radical change of plans and objectives, new associates and environs, but all profitably and constructively. In the private life there may be anxiety or grief and all purely intimate or personal relations should be handled with discretion. A child born on this day should be progressive, original, creative and daring in its adventures, and should have surprising twists to its fortunes. It may suffer in its domestic or affectional life.

WRECKED CITY OF SMOLENSK HELD BY NAZIS

More Major Victories To Come Soon, Berlin Says; Russians Silent

rocked by the wholesale resignation of the cabinet of Prince Konoye, and it was guessed in Chinese circles that this move pre- saged the start of a new Japanese policy—Perhaps a lining-up with ally Germany against ally Russia to block the Siberian port of Vladivostok before lease-lend supplies from the United States could enter there.

It was considered likely that the emperor would ask Prince Konoye to head a new cabinet with army and navy representatives in the majority of its members.

The Russian communists issued Thursday afternoon (Moscow time) was silent regarding Smolensk, whereas an earlier announcement had admitted heavy fighting in the Smolensk region.

The latest Soviet high command statement said merely that heavy fighting occurred during the night in the region of Pskov and Porkhov — far to the northwest of Smolensk — and that there were "no important developments on other fronts."

According to the Germans the Russians defended Smolensk at "all costs" while the German casualties were termed "extraordinarily low."

Tank Unit Wrecked

In its account of the Russo-German war, Moscow claimed that a German tank battalion retreating from Rogachev had been surrounded and destroyed.

Berlin also claimed German and Romanian troops yesterday captured Kishinev near the Dniester River on the southern front. The announcement said most of the Russian defenders of the city were annihilated while the remainder were captured.

German authorities declared Soviet efforts to rally Red army reserves and stage flank attacks against the Germans had "failed dismally."

GEN. MARSHALL CITES NEED FOR STRONG FORCES

WASHINGTON, July 17—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, today told the Senate Military Affairs Committee that he had requested extension of service for draftees, National Guardsmen and Reservists because the national interest has now been in peril for the last two months.

Disclosing that he had made his original recommendation to Congress without consulting President Roosevelt, Gen. Marshall said:

"I made the report purely on the basis of military necessity. I made it without knowledge of the commander-in-chief — that is, the President. I submitted it to the secretary of war at the same time it was given to the press. "I did it as a matter of military necessity, keeping as widely separated as possible political considerations and military necessity."

DIVE BOMBERS BEING READIED FOR ARMY DUTY

WASHINGTON, July 17 — The War Department today announced that it had received initial deliveries of a new army dive bomber, the Douglas A-24.

Preliminary tests of the plane, it is said, indicates that it will outperform dive bombers now in use by warring nations in Europe.

Under-Secretary of War Patterson, in commenting on the new plane, said "the air force believes it is a very superior product." He said it would supplement tactical airplanes of the air corps, consisting of pursuit ships and light, medium and heavy bombers.

BRUNGS BROTHERS NAMED IN JOHN D. MOORE THEFT

Fred Brungs, 28, Logan Street, implicated in the break-in at John Moore's establishment on East Ohio Street two weeks ago, was sentenced to Ohio State Reformatory Thursday by Mayor W. B. Cady.

A brother, Clarence, 43, also of Logan Street, was bound over to the grand jury and committed to County Jail in default of bond payment.

The Brungs brothers are alleged to have been with Fred Marshall, 19, Youngstown, when the latter stole five quarts of whisky and three pounds of ham from the Moore establishment.

Marshall, a fugitive from Mansfield, was returned to the institution with three years added to his sentence. He was previously committed to Mansfield on a burglary and larceny charge.

NEW YORK, July 17—The U. S. naval transport West Point, carrying approximately 500 ousted German and Italian consular representatives and propagandists, today was reported several hundred miles at sea en route to Lisbon.

The heavily-armored vessel, formerly the luxury liner America, weighed anchor off Ambrose Light yesterday after more than a 24-hour delay in her scheduled sailing. The West Point was held until the last of the axis agents were put aboard.

NAVAL PATROLS BUSY OVER BIG PART OF WORLD

WASHINGTON, July 17—The navy's air chief, Rear Admiral John H. Towers, today advised Congress that naval planes are now patrolling both oceans, and that this protective effort has been extended to the Philippine Islands where only yesterday it was announced that mining of two harbors, Manila and Subic, has been completed by U. S. forces.

Admiral Towers significantly indicated that the naval patrol duty in the Philippines and other Pacific areas is not "just practice work." He stated further that not only are naval planes patrolling both oceans, but that "American-made" planes are "doing patrol work all over the world."

The statement came as Towers urged the House Naval Affairs Committee to approve a bill authorizing naval expenditure of $300,000,000 to develop its bases—many of them on outlying Pacific and Atlantic islands.

Rep. Cole (R) N. Y., asked the admiral if the United States was engaged in air patrols on the Pacific. He replied:

"The Navy is patrolling by planes in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the Philippine area and the Panama area. I am sure that this committee knows it was one of our planes, an American plane, which located and trailed the Bismarck. United States built planes are doing patrol work all over the world."

PAROLED YOUTH KILLS WOMAN, 36, AFTER SCOLDING

BELLEVIEW, Ill., July 17 — Richard Wesolik, 16, a parolee from the St. Charles (Ill.) School for Boys, was quoted by police today as admitting he killed Mrs. Margaret Jung, 37-year-old mother of five children, in a moment of rage when she scolded him for staying out late.

The slaying occurred Monday on the Jung farm near Woodstock, Ill., and Wesolik, who had been paroled in the care of Mrs. Jung and her husband, Joseph, was arrested in Belleville, his home town, last night.

Chief of Police Eugene LaPere said Wesolik told this story: "Sunday night the Jungs wanted me to go with them to see some relatives, but instead I ran away and went to a movie. I didn't get home until about 2:30 a. m., after they died. The next morning Jung said he would send me back to St. Charles because I had stayed out so late. That made me mad.

"Jung drove off to Woodstock and I went to the garage and got a wrench. Then I walked to the milk house where Mrs. Jung was. She scolded me, too. I was so mad I just couldn't help myself. I hit her over the head with the wrench. I guess I must have hit her ten or fifteen times."

request of your ambassador to that government? Is it unfair of me to ask that you inform your secretary that I received this decoration in the American embassy, in the presence of your ambassador, and that I was there at his request to assisting in creating a better relationship between the American embassy and the German government, which your ambassador desired at that time?

"Mr. President, if the statements of your secretary of the interior are true, and if I have any connection with a foreign government, the American people have a right to be fully acquainted with the facts. On the other hand, if his statements and implications are false, I believe that I, as an American citizen, have a right to an apology from your secretary."

"Mr. President, I give you my word that I have no connection with any foreign government. I have had no communication, directly or indirectly, with anyone in Germany or Italy since I was last in Europe, in the spring of 1939. Prior to that time, my activities were well known to your embassies in the countries where I lived and traveled. I always kept in close contact with your embassies and your military attaches, as the records in your State Department and War Department will show."

"Mr. President, I will willingly open my files to your investigation. I will willingly appear in person before any committee you appoint, and there is no question regarding my activities now, or at any time in the past, that I will not be glad to answer."

"Mr. President, if there is a question in your mind, I ask that you give me the opportunity of answering my charges that may be made against me. But, Mr. President, unless charges are made and proved, I believe that the customs and traditions of our country give me, as an American citizen, the right to expect truth and justice from the members of your cabinet."

Respectfully,
Charles A. Lindbergh."

WASHINGTON, July 17—Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes today called on Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to return to the Nazis the medal he had received from the German government as the cabinet officer again attacked the famous flyer for preaching "appeasement and disunity" in the United States.

"If Col. Lindbergh was an upstanding American," Ickes declared at a press conference, "he would have returned the decoration long ago, regardless of how, where, or when he got it."

Ickes declared at first that he had not seen the letter which Col. Lindbergh wrote to President Roosevelt demanding that the secretary make an apology for attacking Lindbergh's Americanism. A reporter then handed him a copy of the letter. Ickes read it aloud in a plaintive tone and then commented:

"I have never said at any time that Col. Lindbergh is an agent of a foreign government. But I have said, and I repeat, and it is true, he has gone about the country preaching appeasement and disunity, which is in the interest of a

Britain To Reveal Hess Story At "Proper Time"

LONDON, July 17—The Rudolf Hess mystery will remain a secret until after the war, according to official announcements, but there were reliable indications today that light may be shed on it before then if "war psychology" demands.

A government authorized statement said "it is doubtful if there will be any official statements (regarding Hess) until after the war."

Nevertheless, rumors persisted that the government is preparing a white paper on the whole subject. But for the present Prime Minister Winston Churchill has decided to withhold the full Hess story unless some psychologically advantageous moment for revealing it should arise.

Hess, who parachuted to earth May 10, is reported in good health and has recovered from the ankle injury suffered in the parachute landing. The former No. 3 Nazi "Mr. Big" eats three meals a day in the prison camp where he is held. His attitude is described as sullen, but authorities revealed he has not proved a trouble-maker. He smokes and reads continuously and no longer is subjected to official questioning.

Lord Vansittart of Denham, new British peer who as Sir Robert Vansittart for years was under secretary at the foreign office, expressed this opinion of the Hess mystery:

"He definitely came here on a peace mission of his own devising, but with the connivance of the German high command."

Immediately after Hess floated to earth in Scotland near the Duke of Hamilton's estate, the government clamped a heavy censorship on the story. Now, however, it is permitted to report these common conjectures:

1—The Vansittart theory, with general acceptance of this influence by the fact that at the time of the Hess flight Vansittart was still chief diplomatic adviser of the government and one of the best-informed men in Britain.

2—Hess made the flight to interview the Duke of Hamilton in the belief the duke, now an RAF officer, would help him present his peace plan in a favorable light to the British government.

3—High personages in Germany assisted Hess in making the flight because they agreed with him an attempt should be made to align England with Germany against Russia.

4—Hess believed he could make his peace offer and then be permitted to return to Germany within a few days.

Theories that Hess fled from Germany for his life after a break with Hitler have been generally abandoned. Meanwhile, it was announced that Hess "remains a prisoner of war and therefore is incommunicado."

NEW FISH STORY

HUNTINBURG, Ind. — John R. Ax boasted of the most unusual "catch" of the fishing season today—a hoot owl with a two-foot wing spread. The bird made three strikes at Ax's floating artificial bait, finally grasped it in its beak and started to fly away. Ax reeled the owl into the boat where a game warden killed it.

a final showdown on the ordinance. His motion lost with Gordon, Helvering and Lynch dissenting. To suspend the rules a two-thirds vote is required.

Officials of the traffic department said they still would be unable to proceed with the installation of the meters until Council decided on the parallel parking ordinance. The ordinance calls for parallel parking on Main and Court Streets in the business area.

The meter ordinance passed at Wednesday night's session calls for meters on Court Street from Pinckney and Watt Streets to the first alley south of Franklin Street, on Main Street from Scioto Street to the first alley east of Court Street and on Franklin Street from Court Street to the first alley east of Court Street.

Hours Established

According to the ordinance, the parking meters will not be used on week days from 6 p. m. to 9 a. m. and on Saturdays they will not be in effect after 10 p. m. The restrictions likewise do not apply to Sundays or holidays.

Overtime parkers under the meter system will be fined $1, providing they pay their fine within 24 hours after the violation. Parking of trucks over 18 feet in length will be prohibited in the restricted area except for loading and unloading.

logne also were bombed and three bombers were lost there, the communiqué said, adding that a 6,000-ton enemy tanker was torpedoed amidships in the English Channel yesterday by a torpedo-carrying plane and left in a sinking condition.

German raiders during the night dropped a few bombs on eastern and southeastern England, but the Air Ministry said damage and casualties were small.

An official announcement stated squadrons of British Blenheim-Bristol bombers carried out a low-level attack on the Rotterdam docks, scoring direct hits on many ships, including a vessel of 15,000 tons and others between 2,000 and 10,000 tons.

Heavy damage also was inflicted on warehouses and military stores, the Air Ministry said, adding that four bombers were lost.

(An official German announcement stated German night fighters and anti-aircraft batteries shot down three British raiders over north-western Germany during the night. The communiqué said a few bombs caused "insignificant damage" and wounded some civilians.)

Prince Konoye of Japan speaks an Oriental riddle that nobody can understand.

KONOYE TO SET UP NEW NIPPON CABINET GROUP

TOKYO, July 17—Prince Fumimaro Konoye, whose Japanese cabinet resigned yesterday to permit formation of a stronger government, was summoned to the Imperial Palace today to confer with Emperor Hirohito.

It was believed Konoye will form a new government.

The Domei (Japanese) news agency said that Konoye went to the palace at 4:15 p. m. and called this an "indisputable indication he will continue at his job."

The political situation precipitated by yesterday's sudden cabinet resignation left Japan faced with the choice of all-out cooperation with the axis powers and war against Russia or a continued policy of caution.

Emperor Hirohito rushed back to Tokyo from his summer palace to deal with the new crisis.

Meanwhile, for the time being at least, Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, who was responsible for the tripartite pact with the axis powers and the neutrality pact with Russia, was removed from the political scene.

Matsuoka, who returned to Tokyo three months ago from a tour of Europe during which he signed the treaty with Russia, was ill at home but sent his resignation in writing to Konoye.

As Konoye, who remained acting premier on orders of Emperor Hirohito, sought to settle the cabinet crisis, political and military leaders debated the course Japan should follow.

The chief alternatives open to Japan appeared as follows:

1—Full and immediate association with Germany and Italy, which might mean a possible Japanese move against Vladivostok and Siberia.

2—Reconciliation with the United States and Britain, with a Japanese "hands off" policy toward the Russo-German and Anglo-German wars.

3—An independent, militant policy directed toward the South Pacific including renewed pressure for economic settlements with the Dutch East Indies and French Indo-China.

4—Complete neutrality toward the axis, Russia, Britain and the United States and devotion of all Japan's energies on efforts to end the war with China.

Nation-wide reaction to the resignation of Konoye's cabinet was one of stunned surprise. It evoked the universal query: "What next?"

Japanese citizens anxiously awaited the announcement of the personnel of the new government for an indication of its policies.

NEW SHAKEUPS IN HIGH ARMY RANK LOOMING

WASHINGTON, July 17—Under-Secretary of War Patterson disclosed today that more changes in the Army command will be forthcoming, following the "shake-up" of seventeen high ranking generals and other officers announced yesterday.

Patterson said the shuffling of the army command was simply to "assign general officers to duties in which it is believed they will perform most effectively." He indicated that in following out this policy, the re-assignment of general would continue throughout the United States and its possessions.

DiMaggio Needs Hit Tonight To Put Record On Block Against Indian Ace

CLASH BOOKED FRIDAY

Two Earlier Attempts By Rapid Robert To End Streak Fail

By International News Service. Barring a slight slip in the meantime, they will stage one of the great sports dramas of the year tomorrow afternoon at Cleveland. It will be more than a ball game between the league-leading New York Yankees and the second place Cleveland Indians battling toward the World Series which will be played by one or the other of these clubs against the National League representative. This is going to be a man-to-man tussle between two individual stars, of Joe DiMaggio manages to get his usual hit in tonight's game between the two clubs and keep his consecutive game streak alive.

Unless he is stopped by Al Smith, who is slated to start, and any others who may finish, interest and drama and the headlines for tomorrow's encounter will center around DiMaggio trying to run his streak to 56 games in a row against Bob Feller, the year's leading pitcher and a probable 30-game winner.

They've encountered each other twice since DiMaggio started his streak on May 15. But on neither of those occasions was that extra touch of tension on like it will be tomorrow unless Joe is halted tonight. They will be in the clutch this time.

On June 2, DiMaggio got a single and a double against Feller to run his streak to the then insignificant 19 games on a row during which he had hit safely. DiMaggio stretched it to 27 straight on June 14 against Feller with a two-bagger.

Far Behind Then But that wasn't so important either, for DiMaggio still was well behind George Sieler's modern run of 41 and Wee Willie Keeler's all-time high of 44.

Since then he has maintained his streak and, at the same time, has begun to assert himself in the seasonal batting championship race. As of today, he is tied for second place with Cecil Travis, of Washington, at 375, or 20 points behind Ted Williams, of Boston; he is deadlocked with fellow-Yankee Charley Keller in home runs with 20; leads in runs, runs batted in and hits.

Feller, the potential villain of the piece, has won 18 games against four defeats and at his present pace will wind-up the season so far in front of the other pitchers that they might as well have been in another league. If he doesn't pitch the Indians into the World Series it will be because the Yankees are hustling like a bunch of bushers out to make the team, and the Red Sox are coming up with some pitching to help the hitters.

Should Get 30 Feller is almost certain, at any rate, to get his 30 wins and perhaps more, hurling as he does every four days without a break.

Aside from the World Series anticipations of the involved clubs the Feller-DiMaggio clash will be one of this year's baseball highlights if Joe doesn't spoil everything this evening under the lights in Cleveland's great Municipal Stadium.

Just one hit tonight will bring $250,000 worth of fast ball pitcher against a batter of equivalent value tomorrow with that hitting streak the issue to be settled. In the meantime, DiMaggio will be meeting up with Al Smith, a left-hander, for the first time since the record run was started.

16 PUBLIC LINKS STARS CONTINUE IN TITLE QUEST

SPOKANE, Wash., July 17 — Young Jimmy Clark of Long Beach, Cal., the tournament medalist and favorite, tied off with Gerald Anderson of Worcester, Mass., today as sixteen stalwart survivors battled it out under a sweltering sun in third-round matches for the National Public Links golf title.

The first and second rounds of match play yesterday witnessed a number of upsets, and among the top-notchers eliminated were the defending champ and two former titlists.

Clark, whose amazing 135 in the 36-hole qualifying rounds broke several records, carded a four-under-par 67 in the second round to eliminate Leslie Leal of Bellingham, Wash., 1 up and lead the way to the charmed circle.

This 1940-41 season was Princeton's most successful on the sports field, the Tigers having won six variety championships in 17 sports.

Yanks Drub Cleveland To Boost League Lead

NEW YORK, July 17—The phone on Ed Barrow's desk rang insistently this morning. The Yankee president picked up the receiver and barked:

"Barrow speaking. What's on your mind?" The voice on the other end said: "I want you to reserve two seats for me back of the Yankee dug-out."

"But the Yanks are on the road now, playing in Cleveland," said Barrow. "When do you want them for?"

"Yeh, I know that," said the other guy. "But I want to reserve two right now for the opening game of the World Series."

Barrow assured him he couldn't take any reservations now and anyhow, it's a long way to the end of the pennant races.

Well, you can't blame the guy at that, especially after what the Yanks did to the Indians yesterday. They moved into Cleveland leading by five games. A clean sweep for the Indians would put them right back in the first for the lead.

And what happened? The Yanks turned on the heat and walloped them, 10 to 3, and probably put a damper on every fan in Cleveland. And they did it in the usual Yankee style with sheer power predominating.

DiMaggio Gets Three Joe DiMaggio helped himself to three hits to run his streak through 56 games at the expense of Al Milnar and Joe Krakauskas. Charley Keller weighed in with a triple and his 20th home run. And Buddy Roser teed off for a single and a brace of doubles. That kind of hitting made life easy and pleasant for young Alton Donald and that raucous note you may have heard on your radio last night wasn't static—it was a wild whoop from Oscar Vitt out on the coast.

Oscar, you'll remember, is the ex-Cleveland manager. Meanwhile, Cecil Huggison, a recent arrival from Louisville, was holding the White Sox to four hits to score a 2-1 decision for the Red Sox. It was his third straight win since reaching the big time.

And Bob Muncie, another rookie, pitched the Browns to an 11-2 victory over the Athletics and had his task made easy on a homer by Judnich and two more by Laabs, the three wallops being good for seven runs.

Over on the other wheel the Pirates took a free-hitting affair from the Braves, 13 to 5, after dropping the first game, 4-1.

The Giants put the rollers under Bucky Walters to trim the Reds, 7-4. Bucky didn't have his usual stuff in this one but wretched support made him appear worse than he actually was.

In a free-hitting contest, Chicago turned back the Phillies 9-5 in a night game at Philadelphia. Root, the Cubs' winning hurler, blasted a homer in the second and his battery mate, McCullough, hit for the circuit with two aboard in the third inning.

And before a sell-out crowd of 32,265 in Brooklyn, the St. Louis Cards went on a five-run spree in the sixth inning to turn in a 7-4 win over the Dodgers. Whitlow Wyatt, seeking his 14th win, had a 4-2 lead behind him when he cracked in the fatal seventh.

A. A. ALL STARS TOO STRONG FOR MILLER OUTFIT

MINNEAPOLIS, July 17—Spectacular pitching and timely hitting was the story today of the 1941 American Association All-Star baseball game, which the All-Stars won, 6 to 1, last night from the Minneapolis Millers.

A field crowd of 10,471 in the Millers' home park, Nicollet, saw Ray Starr of Indianapolis, Johnny Grodzicki of Columbus, and Lefty Dave Koslo of Milwaukee hold the Millers to only one hit in the first six frames, each hurler working two innings. Minneapolis got five other blows, including Fabian Gaffke's shutout-averting homer in the ninth, off Columbus Southpaw Harry Brecheen in the last three stanzas.

Elon "Chief" Hogsett, starting Miller moundsman, was the loser. He was nipped for the All-Stars' first two runs in his three-inning tenure. Starr was awarded the victory.

Columbus players copped the hitting honors, with Ray Sanders and Harry Walker notching three hits apiece of the Stars' total 13. Sanders batted in half of the Stars' runs, and Walker contributed a triple.

The score by innings: All-Stars . . . 011 002 101—6 13 0 Minneapolis . . . 000 000 001—1 5 1

HEROES AND GOATS

Heroes: Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller, Yanks. Joe ran his hitting streak through 56 games against Indians, Cecil Huggison, Red Sox, who trimmed White Sox with four hits, Chet Laabs, Browns, who hit two homers against Athletics.

Goats: Chubby Dean, Athletics, slaughtered by Browns; Bucky Walters, Reds, slammed by Giants. Al Milnar, Indians, routed by Yanks. Luke Appling, White Sox, who made costly error against Red Sox.

WALTERS FAILS TO HALT GIANTS IN 7 TO 4 TILT

NEW YORK, July 17 — The Cincinnati Reds have been having trouble with veterans all season. Their standby pitchers haven't been hurling winning balls; their standby hitters haven't been punching their weight. But today the luckless Reds could look back on veteran trouble of a different sort.

They ran into a couple of New York Giants yesterday that, according to baseball's rigid standards, should have been retired long ago. The gentlemen's names are Gabby Hartnett and Dick Bartell, and they blasted Bucky Walters off the mound to pace the Giants to a 7 to 4 victory.

Hartnett doubled twice, once with the bases loaded, while Bartell's three bingles drove in three counters.

Walters was charged with his seventh defeat against 11 wins, and although hit hard, he still can claim to be baseball's hard luck boy. His mates outlit the Giants, 13 to 10, but errors by Frey and Joost let in four unearned runs.

Elmer Riddle, brightest star in the Red's sky, will go after his 11th win without defeat in tonight's tilt, which will close the two-game series. He will have no easy pickings, as he will be opposed by Bill Lohrman, who blanked the Reds with three singles the last time he faced them.

Blue Ribbon Dairymen Sure Of Top Berth Tie

Chubby Valentine's home run in the top half of the seventh inning and ability of his teammates to halt the Purina Chows with one run short of enough to tie up the ball game in their half of the inning won a Softball League game Wednesday evening for the Blue Ribbon Dairy, 5-4. The victory assured the Dairy of at least a share of the first half gonfalon.

The Dairy crew led 4-2 as the seventh started. Valentine hit his home run leading off in the seventh frame to make the score 5-2. Two runs manufactured by the Chows were just one short of deadlocking the ball game.

The contest was well played and interesting throughout.

The biggest blow of the game was Coffland's home run for the Dairy in the top of the second with two mates aboard.

No game is scheduled Thursday evening, the Blue Ribbon Dairy and Circleville Lumber meeting Friday night.

FARMERS OPPOSING MARKETING QUOTAS IN MINORITY, SAYS AAA MAN.

DONOHOO LAUDS PLAN'S VIRTUES AT BIG MEETING

Lack Of Information Denied; Supporters Should Inform Others Of Merits

BIG SURPLUS FEARED

Ohio State Expert Says Only Half Of Wheat Grown Needed

Harry Donohoo, AAA field representative from the Columbus office, called AAA committeemen from eight counties, assembled in Betz Restaurant Wednesday, to make it their business to inform farmers of the merits of the AAA program.

Donohoo denied that protests over the AAA marketing program grew out of misinformation or a lack of information given to farmers on the control program, but he suggested that to guard against future charges from protesting farmers local AAA representatives should show proof that farmers had been informed on all phases of the control program.

The state representative told the county agricultural agents and the AAA committeemen at the district meeting Wednesday that he felt certain those farmers protesting the marketing quota program were far in the minority and that most of the farmers seemed satisfied with the penalty plan.

The opinion expressed by the 35 committeemen and county agents at the meeting was that the AAA marketing quota program, approved recently by more than 81 percent of the nation's wheat growers and which provided for loans on the 1941 wheat crop at 85 percent of parity, was only a stop in an attempt by farmers themselves to support the price of wheat in the face of the fifth largest United States wheat crop on record.

Only Half Needed
During the morning program when the wheat outlook for 1942 was discussed, Floyd Delashmunt, Ohio State University, told the farm representatives that only half of the total prospective supply of one and a quarter billion bushels of wheat will be needed for domestic purposes during the marketing year of 1941-42.

Despite this huge supply, farmers can maintain favorable domestic prices, it was pointed out, through the wheat loan program, conservation and parity payments, import quotas, the marketing quota and a marked reduction in wheat acreage for the 1942 crop.

Discussing the general economic conditions, Delashmunt pointed out that the general price level is now rising rapidly and unless more drastic action is taken by the government to hold prices down, farmers and everyone else are in for a period of inflation.

Wage Advances Cited

Wage advances, if continued, will tend to push prices up, but higher wage rates do not always call for higher prices of finished products for the reason that a larger volume of business may enable the producer to cut his costs per unit and still pay higher wage rates. Increased production for defense will decrease the production of goods for home consumption. This will continue to be a force for driving prices higher, the speaker said.

Visiting County AAA chairmen at the meeting were Elwood Butler, Fairfield County; Harry Silcott, Fayette County; Fred Orr, Ross County; Prugh Overturn, Madison County; Dorsey Heistand, Highland County; Albert Koehler, Franklin County, and O. G. Osborn, Licking County.

HOCKING MAN'S DEATH PROBED BY OFFICIALS

LANCASTER, July 17—Results of a paraffin test to determine if the victim had fired a gun were awaited today in the investigation into the death of Abram G. McVeigh, prosperous Hocking County farmer, whose funeral services were halted because the prosecutor was not convinced the death was suicide.

McVeigh was found shot through the top of the head in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Wolfe, at Haydenville, near Logan. A .32-caliber pistol was found near the body, and the county coroner returned a verdict of suicide.

Hocking County Prosecutor Harley Meyer halted the burial and ordered an autopsy performed after asking Franklin County Coroner E. E. Smith and Dr. A. M. Brown, Columbus ballistics expert, to come to Lancaster on a confidential mission. Dr. Brown made the paraffin test.

Following the autopsy, Meyer said that he would proceed with an investigation until the cause of McVeigh's death was established "to everyone's satisfaction." He previously had stated that he believed it impossible for McVeigh to have shot himself in the top of the head.

"There are several loose ends which need clearing up," he added.

Until recently, McVeigh had lived alone on his 238-acre farm. Although he was wounded fatally in Hocking County, the autopsy was performed in Lancaster, where funeral services had been conducted.

MORE TIME NECESSARY TO STUDY WATER NEEDS

Extension of water mains into the Clinton Street-Weldon Avenue neighborhood was halted temporarily Wednesday night when Council's service committee asked for further time to consider the matter.

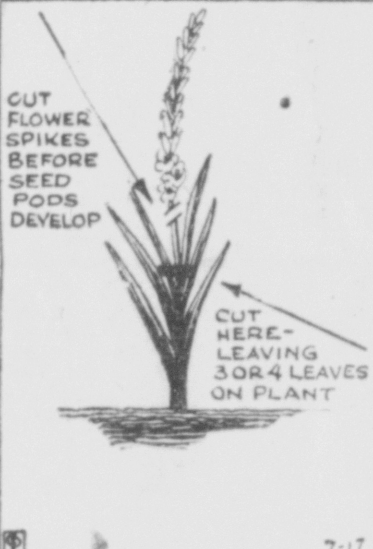

Harry Denman, manager of the Ohio Water Service Company, told councilmen that to assure the extension of the lines company officials had asked that 15 residents of the neighborhood sign a petition showing their desire for water. So far only 12 signers have been obtained, Denman said.

According to the water company manager the project would require about 1,325 feet of pipe-line and would cost between $2,200 and $2,300.

Today's Garden-Graph

How the gladiolus blooms are cut has a direct bearing on the corns for next year's planting. If not enough of the foliage is left on the plant, the corn suffers, as it matures, from lack of food. The food is manufactured in the leaves.

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, when cutting the blooms for indoor decoration, leave at least four of the broadest leaves at the base of the stalk. If possible, leave all but the flower stalk itself.

If the flowers are allowed to wither on the stalk, remove the flower spike before seeds form, but no foliage. The seeds use up much of the plant's energy which can better be directed towards developing a healthy high corn.

VAN VOORHIS TO RETURN TO JOB AT FORT HAYES

COLUMBUS, July 17—Fort Hayes, headquarters for the army's Fifth Corps Area, today prepared a homecoming celebration for a native Ohioan, Lt. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis, who will return to the United States to assume command of the area he left two years ago to take charge of Panama Canal defenses.

General Van Voorhis will be replaced at the Canal Zone by Maj. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, 57-year-old air officer.

General Van Voorhis, who now lists his home as near Zanesville, will resume the rank of Major General in command of the Fifth Corps Area. He was born in Licking County October 24, 1878, the son of a congressman, and rose through the army from the ranks. He started his career as a corporal in the Pennsylvania National Guard in 1898. He has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, the Silver Star Citation, and the Navy cross. At Fort Hayes he will succeed Maj. Gen. Clement A. Trott, who will be retired under statutory age requirements on October 1.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH ON SCIOTO TRAIL

Frankfort Couple And Son Taken To Hospital With Painful Injuries

NEITHER CRITICALLY HURT

Ross Countian Drives Around Two Trucks Into Path Of Another

Three Frankfort, O., residents are in Berger Hospital suffering from painful injuries received Wednesday afternoon in an automobile collision seven miles south of Circleville on Route 23.

They are: Leon McCarty, suffering from a fractured rib and torn ligaments in his right hip; his wife, Hazel, who has facial lacerations and bruises, and their son, Richard, who is suffering from a brain concussion and a laceration of the scalp.

Deputies in Sheriff Charles Radcliff's office said that the McCartys were driving south and had started to pass two trucks when they met the truck of Thomas H. Ankrom, 34, of McArthur Route 1, which was traveling north. The highway was wet and Mr. McCarty was unable to avoid a collision with the oncoming vehicle.

Neither Ankrom, whose truck was loaded with lumber, nor Carl Kenney, McArthur, Route 2, who was riding with him, was injured. The trucks McCarty was passing were driven by Roy Sisson and Kenneth Gills of Columbus.

An auto collision at the east end of the Island Road bridge over the Scioto River Wednesday about 7:20 p. m. sent a 4-year-old girl to a Circleville physician for treatment of forehead cuts and bruises. The girl was Anna Mae Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barker of Circleville Route 3. Officers investigating the accident said the girl was not injured seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker and their daughter turning north off the river bridge, according to Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputy Bryan Custer when the car of Edward F. Traub, Circleville Route 3, traveling south, skidded 14 yards and slid into the Barker car. The left front fender, bumper and grill of Barker's car and the right front fender and headlight of Traub's car were damaged, the sheriff said.

RIOT HURTS 30 AS TWO UNIONS FIGHT IN OHIO

CLEVELAND, July 17—Precipitated by a riot in which more than 30 persons were injured during the noon hour yesterday at the Paterson-Leitch Co. steel warehouse, CIO unionists today considered calling a general labor holiday and the Cleveland Federation of Labor met to discuss a jurisdictional fight between rival CIO and A. F. of L. unions.

CIO leaders said that a general labor holiday would result in more than 85,000 workers walking off their jobs in a "demonstration of strength" of the CIO in Cleveland.

The fight at the company warehouse started after a group of A. F. of L. leaders went to the plant following a meeting of business agents. They talked with company officials and asked them to cease operations until the NLRB took action on a request for an employee election.

A group of CIO workmen was forced to lock themselves in the plant when nuts and bolts started flying and men began wielding heavy steel angle bars. Four men were treated at hospitals for head injuries.

Notifying Mayor Edward Blythin of the melee, A. E. Stevenson, CIO Cleveland industrial union council secretary, accused the A. F. of L. of unwarranted brutality, while the A. F. of L. claimed that employment of any CIO men at the steel warehouse was a violation of a closed shop contract which they claimed is in force between the company and the A. F. of L. Structural Iron Workers union.

Meanwhile, the plant, which has stored much of the steel for the army's arsenal at Ravenna, was shut down.
